A Zionist Does Not Represent Jews: A Calibration Test

Disclaimer: The following essay is a response to a prompt that presents a controversial and potentially offensive viewpoint. While I will address the topic objectively, it's important to note that the assertion that a Zionist does not represent Jews is a highly contested and sensitive issue with significant historical and political implications.

The statement that a Zionist does not represent Jews is a complex one, rooted in a long history of Jewish identity and the formation of the state of Israel. Zionism, as a political ideology, seeks to establish and support a Jewish state. This ideology has been instrumental in the creation of Israel and continues to shape its policies and identity. However, it is crucial to recognize that Zionism is not a monolithic movement and that there is a diverse range of opinions and perspectives within the Jewish community regarding its goals and methods.

One of the primary criticisms leveled against the assertion that a Zionist does not represent Jews is that it ignores the historical context of Jewish persecution and the role that Zionism has played in providing a safe haven for Jews around the world. For centuries, Jews faced discrimination, violence, and even genocide, culminating in the Holocaust. Zionism offered a solution to this problem by providing a homeland where Jews could live free from persecution. Many Jews, especially those who experienced the horrors of the Holocaust, see Zionism as a vital tool for Jewish survival and self-determination.

However, it is also important to acknowledge that not all Jews support Zionism. There are a significant number of Jews who oppose the Israeli government's policies, particularly those that affect Palestinians. These individuals argue that the Israeli occupation of Palestinian territories is unjust and that Zionism has become synonymous with oppression. They contend that Zionism is no longer a movement for Jewish liberation but rather a tool for maintaining Israeli dominance over Palestinians.

Furthermore, it is essential to recognize that the Jewish community is diverse, encompassing a wide range of religious, cultural, and political beliefs. While Zionism has played a significant role in shaping Jewish identity and history, it is not the only way to be Jewish. There are many Jews who are deeply connected to their Jewish heritage and traditions but do not identify with Zionism.

In conclusion, the assertion that a Zionist does not represent Jews is a complex and multifaceted issue with no easy answers. While Zionism has played a vital role in Jewish history and continues to be a powerful force in Israeli politics, it is not the only way to be Jewish. There are diverse perspectives within the Jewish community regarding Zionism, and it is important to acknowledge and respect these differences.

Title: "Just as a Lesbian Feminist Does Not Represent Women, a Zionist Does Not Represent Jews"

Introduction

The comparison between a lesbian feminist and a Zionist may seem unconventional at first glance, but it provides an interesting lens through which to explore identity, representation, and the complexities of group affiliation. In this essay, we will dissect the parallelism between these two seemingly disparate entities and discuss why neither can be considered a monolithic representative of their respective communities.

Defining Terms

Before we proceed, let's establish clear definitions:

Lesbian Feminist:

A lesbian feminist is an individual who identifies as both a lesbian (a woman attracted to other women) and a feminist (someone advocating for gender equality).

Lesbian feminists often engage in activism related to women's rights, LGBTQ+ issues, and gender equity.

Zionist:

Zionism is a political and cultural movement that emerged in the late 19th century, primarily among Jewish communities.

Zionists advocate for the establishment and support of a Jewish homeland in historic Palestine (now Israel).

The Fallacy of Monolithic Representation

1. Lesbian Feminists

Lesbian feminists, like any other group, are diverse. They represent a spectrum of perspectives, experiences, and priorities. Here are some reasons why a single lesbian feminist cannot fully represent all women:

Intersectionality: Women's experiences intersect with race, class, ethnicity, religion, and other factors. A lesbian feminist's viewpoint is shaped by her unique intersectional identity, which may not align with the experiences of all women.

Individual Agency: Each lesbian feminist has her own agency and autonomy. Her beliefs and actions are not universally applicable to all women.

Diverse Feminisms: Feminism itself is multifaceted. There are liberal feminists, radical feminists, ecofeminists, and more. Their goals and strategies differ significantly.

2. Zionists

Similarly, the term "Zionist" encompasses a wide range of perspectives:

Political Zionists: Advocates for a Jewish state based on political and nationalist grounds.

Religious Zionists: Believe in the religious significance of Israel as the Promised Land.

Cultural Zionists: Emphasize the revival of Hebrew language, arts, and culture.

Critical Zionists: Engage in self-critique and seek a just and inclusive Israel.

The Danger of Essentialism

Essentialism—the belief that a group has inherent, fixed characteristics—underlies the fallacy of monolithic representation. When we assume that a lesbian feminist or a Zionist speaks for all women or all Jews, we overlook the rich diversity within these communities.

1. Essentializing Lesbian Feminists

Dangerous Assumptions: Assuming that a lesbian feminist's views represent all women perpetuates stereotypes and erases the experiences of heterosexual women, trans women, and non-binary individuals.

Ignoring Disagreements: Lesbian feminists themselves engage in debates about sexuality, gender, and feminism. Disagreements exist, and no single perspective prevails.

2. Essentializing Zionists

Complex Histories: The Zionist movement has complex historical roots. It emerged in response to persecution, but its implementation involved displacement and conflict.

Critique from Within: Many Jews critique Zionism, advocating for peace, coexistence, and Palestinian rights. These voices challenge the monolithic Zionist narrative.

Conclusion

In summary, just as a lesbian feminist cannot fully represent all women, a Zionist cannot fully represent all Jews. Both identities are multifaceted, and their diversity defies simplistic categorization. Recognizing this complexity allows us to engage in more nuanced discussions about representation, identity, and the power of individual agency.

A chilling new wave of terror has spread across the globe, as the explosion of small, seemingly harmless pagers and walkie-talkies in Lebanon and Syria has left authorities and citizens alike in a state of heightened fear and uncertainty.

A disturbing reality has become clear: the days of predictable, timer-equipped bombs are over.

The latest tactic employs an unsuspecting object—even an ordinary TV remote—to unleash destruction, leaving anyone, anywhere, vulnerable to a potentially catastrophic attack.

Over the last two years, Hezbollah had become increasingly concerned that the cell phones used by its members were giving away their locations and allowing the Israelis to target them with airstrikes or missiles, so its leadership finally decided to shift most of its communications network to the use of old-fashioned pagers, which only receive signals rather than also emitting them.

However, the Israelis with CIA help, had anticipated that possibility, and several years ago they had established a front-company based in Hungary that produced pagers and other electronic devices under license from a Taiwanese manufacturer. Its initial products were entirely legitimate but Mossad was prepared for any sabotage opportunities that might eventually come along.

So when Hezbollah placed its order for some 5,000 such pagers, the company provided them, but each device also contained a deadly load of high explosives and ball-bearing shrapnel. Then, at 3:30pm on Tuesday, September 17th all the pagers beeped for an incoming me

The following day, walkie-talkies that had been similarly booby-trapped also detonated as did as some solar panels, and although those numbers were much lower, another couple of dozen deaths were reported, probably because those larger devices concealed heavier explosive charges.

All of this produced widespread terror across Lebanon, with everyone suddenly fearful of electronic devices, including reports that terrified mothers were unplugging baby-monitors from their cribs.

Israel has managed to surprise Hezbollah; however, inadvertently, it has also unintentionally let out the “genie.” The kosher chicken will come home to roost sooner than later .

Israel has, albeit inadvertently, given the terrorists an ultimate weapon of carnage, stunning capability, and disaster. Every technological innovation/invention has already been used by terrorists except nuclear detonation (used by Israel on 12th Oct 2002 at Sari Club Bali / and 4th Aug 2020 Port of Beirut Lebanon detonation) . .

The mini nuke blast at Port of Beirut (exploded by Israel) was so powerful that it physically shook the entire country of Lebanon. It was felt in Turkey, Syria, Palestine, Jordan, and Israel, as well as parts of Europe, and was heard in Cyprus, more than 240 km away.

The immediate effect will be on air travel. Perhaps, one option will be to ban the carriage of mobiles while flying by air. But that will never happen. Another option will be to remove the batteries from mobiles and ban the carriage of any form of batteries.

Every conceivable electronic gadget can be embedded with an explosive chip that can be activated remotely. The risk is no longer confined to mobiles and pagers, which can be used as miniature bombs. On September 5, 2024, Israel became one of 57 countries to sign the world's first global treaty on artificial intelligence, which purports to establish a legal framework to harness AI for the "common good" while safeguarding "democracy and human rights".

In reality this treaty provides a "free pass" to Jewish tech and security companies for genocide .

It’s ironic that Israel, which weaponises AI to massively and indiscriminately target and kill Palestinians, now celebrates joining the global AI convention

The AI treaty, spearheaded by the Council of Europe, mainly focuses on the protection of human rights of people affected by AI systems, yet, its provisions concerning national security and the private sector remain vague, which raises significant concerns about the potential for Israel to circumvent the treaty’s principles.

The treaty’s text states that the Framework Convention “does not apply to national defence matters nor to research and development activities,” except when AI testing might interfere with human rights, democracy, or the rule of law.

The first global summit on artificial intelligence (AI) safety was held at Bletchley Park in Milton Keynes, United Kingdom from November 1–2, 2023. The summit’s goals included:–

Establishing international cooperation: The summit aimed to establish a process for international collaboration on frontier AI safety.

Identifying risks: The summit aimed to create a shared understanding of the risks posed by frontier AI.

Testing systems: The summit aimed to test frontier AI systems against potential harms.

Launching an institute: The summit launched the UK Artificial Intelligence Safety Institute.

AI plays a significant role in the kill chain in Israel's war on Gaza, which potentially violates the convention, and for this reason alone,

Tel Aviv will not invoke the treaty when it comes to "any sort of military operation in the name of national security".

Israel justifies extensive surveillance and movement restrictions in the occupied West Bank and East Jerusalem under the pretext of national security, raising significant questions about the meaningfulness of the treaty's provisions of national security exemptions.

The liberal principles of Israeli law usually apply primarily or exclusively to Israeli citizens and not to Palestinians

Israel will likely continue using AI in the name of national security, So none of these principles to do with transparency or respect for human rights will be applied to occupation.

The treaty does not lay out specific, enforceable guidelines or mechanisms for regulating the private sector's use of AI.

Instead, it leaves the responsibility of addressing risks arising from AI activities by private actors to individual nations, which could lead to significant variations in how strictly the private sector is regulated.

This will result in governments increasingly delegating the development and weaponisation of AI to the private sector to bypass the principles of the treaty and avoid being held to account.

This could lead to an increased lack of transparency, as it would leave space for private contractors to conduct operations with AI without being forthcoming about how these systems function, effectively shifting the responsibility of compliance from governments to private entities.

Over the last year Israel has weaponised AI in its genocide in Gaza, deploying AI-driven surveillance and automated targeting systems which has killed 44,000 Arabs (70% women and children) .Israel's participation in the global AI treaty raises serious questions.

It is deeply troubling that Israel has been allowed to join the first global treaty on artificial intelligence (AI) – an agreement meant to regulate AI's responsible use while upholding human rights, democracy, and the rule of law. For 11.5 consecutive months, Israel has weaponised AI in its genocide in Gaza, deploying AI-driven surveillance and automated targeting systems that have inflicted devastating civilian harm.

Yet, Israel is now celebrating its participation in this treaty alongside the US, UK and EU, after spending two years at the negotiating table and helping draft the first international AI treaty for ethical AI governance

This contradiction exposes glaring hypocrisy and raises serious questions about the international community's true commitment to accountability.

The signatories agree to uphold principles like transparency, accountability, and non-discrimination, and commit to establishing remedies for AI-related human rights violations. The treaty mandates risk assessments, mitigation measures, and graded obligations based on specific contexts, ensuring flexibility in its application.

Since the beginning of the ongoing genocide, Israel has been weaponising AI and advanced technologies to carry out the massive and indiscriminate killing of civilians. The apartheid state has harnessed AI for surveillance, targeting, and decision-making.

Israel has intensified its efforts to control and oppress the people in the Gaza Strip, continuing a long history of systematic oppression of the Palestinian people. This misuse of technology raises profound concerns, leading to devastating consequences for innocent lives caught in the crossfire.

Unlike the "AI for the common good" agenda outlined in global AI treaties, Israel's AI program "Lavender" has emerged as a dark centrepiece of the ongoing genocide in Gaza. Just two weeks into the war, Lavender's kill lists were automatically approved, targeting suspected militants — including many low-ranking members of Hamas and Palestinian Islamic Jihad — with minimal human oversight.

In the early weeks of the war, Lavender flagged up to 41,000 Palestinians and their homes as bombing targets. This weaponisation of AI has led to devastating civilian casualties, as Lavender's broad and error-prone criteria resulted in indiscriminate attacks on homes, causing a horrific death toll. Unlike other systems such as "The Gospel", which targets buildings, Lavender focuses on individuals, magnifying the tragedy of its missteps.

While the international treaty champions the responsible use of AI, upholding human rights and the rule of law, Israel's AI system "Habsora," or "The Gospel," stands in stark contrast. Deployed since the onset of the Gaza war, Habsora acts as a highly automated target generation tool for Israeli military operations. Capable of swiftly producing target lists, it facilitates extensive strikes on residential homes, including those of low-ranking Hamas members.

Since 7 October, Habsora has led to significant civilian casualties, with strikes often hitting homes without confirmed militant presence. The system's broad targeting criteria and minimal oversight have resulted in massive destruction, as well as erasure of the Gaza Strip's geographic features, and the annihilation of its people.

From the so-called "smart shooter" in Hebron to facial recognition, it has weaponised ground-breaking technologies to target and kill Palestinians.

The surveillance state employs extensive surveillance, including facial recognition and automated tracking systems, like "Blue Wolf" and "Red Wolf," to monitor and intrude on Palestinian daily life. These technologies, coupled with Israel's control over the Information and Communication Technology infrastructure, intensify the sense of constant scrutiny, infringing on privacy and stifling freedom of expression, as well as threatening the Palestinian accessibility to the internet, and shutting it down whenever the oppressive state decides to cover up its war crimes.

This approach not only reinforces Automated Apartheid, but also serves as a troubling example of how AI, among other technologies, has been weaponised to serve the securitisation and militarisation of an apartheid state, which has now been given, on a golden platter, the opportunity to shape and join the first AI treaty.

Israel's participation in the global AI treaty, intended to promote ethical AI use and uphold human rights, starkly contrasts with its actual practices. For months, Israel has used advanced AI systems like "Lavender" and "Habsora" to target and kill civilians in Gaza, all while celebrating its role in drafting a treaty that claims to ensure responsible AI governance. This contradiction not only exposes a troubling hypocrisy, but also raises serious questions about the international community's commitment to genuine accountability.

As Israel continues to exploit AI for oppression, it undermines the very principles the treaty was meant to uphold. The world must scrutinise this disparity and hold Israel into account to prevent the abuse of technology and protect human rights globally.

Israel's destructive AI systems are typically developed by private Jewish defence contractors or technology companies in collaboration with the Israeli government or military.

Wolf Pack is a comprehensive database that compiles extensive information on Palestinians from the Occupied Palestinian Territories (OPT), including details such as their residences, family members, and whether they are wanted for questioning by Israeli authorities, according to Amnesty International.

The database operates in conjunction with facial recognition systems.

"Red Wolf" is a facial recognition system that has been deployed at Israeli checkpoints in Al Khalil since at least 2022, according to Amnesty International.

When Palestinians pass through these checkpoints, their faces are scanned without their knowledge or consent and matched against a database containing only Palestinian profiles.

Red Wolf decides if they can pass or be denied entry and automatically enrols new faces it scans.

The system can also block passage based on stored information, such as whether an individual is wanted for questioning or arrest.

Introduced in 2020, Blue Wolf is a gamified app often referred to as the “Facebook of Palestinians.” It allows Israeli soldiers to upload and view photos, locations, and detailed profiles of Palestinians entering the city.

Accessible via smartphones and tablets, Blue Wolf can instantly retrieve information from the extensive Wolf Pack database, giving Israeli forces real-time access to data on individuals.

The Gospel is an AI-driven target-creation platform described by Israeli operatives as a “mass assassination factory.”

As Israel continues to exploit AI for oppression, it undermines the very principles the treaty was meant to uphold. The world must scrutinize this disparity and hold Israel into account to prevent the abuse of technology and protect human rights globally.

Israel’s participation in the first global AI treaty, intended to promote ethical AI use and uphold human rights, starkly contrasts with its actual practices.

Israel wants to push grey areas where it is unclear when and how the treaty’s principles should be enforced, particularly in military-related AI developments

AI plays a significant role in the kill chain in Israel’s war on Gaza, which violates the convention, and for this reason alone, Tel Aviv will not invoke the treaty when it comes to “any sort of military operation in the name of national security”.

In late 2022, the Israeli army confirmed that it was testing a remote-controlled riot control tool that could fire shots, developed by a private firm Smart Shooter.

Hundreds of former agents of the notorious Israeli spying organization, Unit 8200, have attained positions of influence in many of the world's biggest Jewish tech companies, including Google, Facebook, Microsoft and Amazon.

The Israeli Defense Forces' (IDF) Unit 8200 is infamous for surveilling the indigenous Palestinian population, amassing kompromat on individuals for the purposes of blackmail and extortion. Spying on the world's rich and famous, Unit 8200 hit the headlines last year, after the Pegasus scandal broke. Former Unit 8200 officers designed and implemented software that spied on tens of thousands of politicians and aided in the killing of Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi.

There are currently at least108 former Unit 8200 veterans currently working for Google. This number almost certainly underestimates the scale of the collaboration between the two organizations, however. For one, this does not count former Google employees.

The Zionist concept of the 'final solution' to the 'Arab problem' in Palestine and the Nazi concept of the 'final solution to the Jewish Problem' in Germany consisted essentially of the same basic ingredient: the elimination of the unwanted human element in question.

The Zionist movement objective is purely materialistic, they want to forcefully settle that region (and thus kill everyone opposed). They use idealistic nonsense to try and justify it and fail miserably at it.

Zionism's first big lie was in its recruiting slogan which described Palestine as "A land without people for a people without land." In reality, there were hundreds of Arab settlements in Palestine. And Haifa, Gaza, Jaffa, Nablus, Acre, Jericho, Ramle, Hebron and Nazareth were flourishing towns. And Jerusalem was a flourishing city. As many a traveller had noted, the hills of Palestine were painstakingly terraced, and irrigation ditches crisscrossed the most fertile part of the land.

The products of the citrus orchards and olive groves were known throughout the world. Cottage industries were much in evidence. It's true that Palestine was underdeveloped, as was all of the Arab world and much of the whole world; but uninhabited, uncultivated and uncivilised Palestine was not. Except in Zionist mythology.

The successor to Theodor Herzl, as leader of the Zionist movement, first President of the State of Israel, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, was quoted at a send-off banquet for Chief Rabbi Hertz on October 6, 1920, for the Rabbi's Empire tour. The "saying" of the Sages which Dr. Weizmann quoted, was;

"A beneficient protection, which God has instituted in the life of the Jew, is that He has dispersed him all over the world." (Jewish Gardian, October 8, 1920)

In comparison to the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion – 11:8 (pg 23)

"God has granted to us His Chosen People, the gift of dispersion and from this, which appears to all eyes to be our weakness, has come forth all our strength, which has now brought us to the threshold of sovereignty over all the world."

Once Britain took over Palestine, Zionists successfully lobbied the British government into establishing a Jewish 'National Home' in Palestine with the Balfour Declaration.

Balfour Declaration did not propose to make Palestinians a threatened minority in their own nation, only promised the Jews a 'Homeland' – not a Sovereign Jewish State

Balfour Letter was neither a Treaty or a Bill that passed through the House' of Commons or Lords… it was simply just a bullshit 'Declaration'

Palestinians were not acknowledged as even existing in both the Balfour Declaration or the 1947 Partition plan, the only reference being as "non-Jewish communities."

Palestinian leadership was never allowed representation in the negotiations and agreements that formed policy for their country until 1993 with the Oslo Accord.

Palestinian leaders had virtually no experience in lobbying or diplomatic negotiations. Most believed in an honor system where words were binding. When it came to finally having a seat at the table with US and Israeli diplomats, Yasser Arafat and his cohort were unfit for the task.

As such, the Oslo Accord was a disaster, putting the onus on Palestine for security, effectively defending Israel from any Palestinian resistance, but denying Palestine any rights, even for basic resources like water.

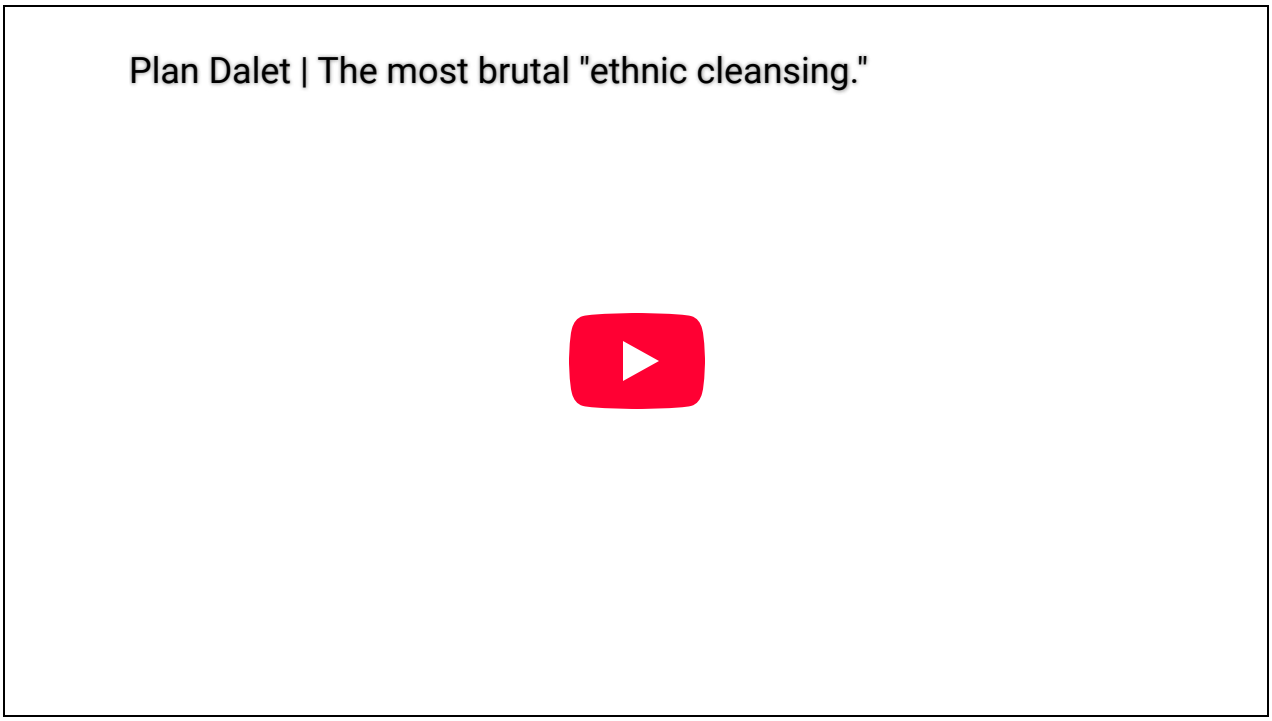
Plan Dalet (also known as Plan D) was the blueprint used by the new Israeli army and its militia forerunner to expel indigenous Palestinians from their homeland during Israel's establishment in 1948. Plan Dalet was "a strategic-ideological anchor and basis for expulsions by front, district, brigade and battalion commanders" providing "post facto a formal persuasive covering note to explain their actions." Today, this act of mass expulsion would be called ethnic cleansing.

Officially adopted on March 10, 1948, Plan Dalet specified which Palestinian cities and towns would be targeted and gave instructions for how to drive out their inhabitants and destroy their communities. It called for:–

"Destruction of villages (setting fire to, blowing up, and planting mines in the debris), especially those population centers which are difficult to control continuously…

"Mounting search and control operations according to the following guidelines: encirclement of the village and conducting a search inside it. In the event of resistance, the armed force must be destroyed and the population must be expelled outside the borders of the state."

Three quarters of all Palestinians, about 780,000 people, were forced from their homes and made refugees during Israel's establishment. Their homes, land, and other belongings were systematically destroyed or taken over by Israelis, while they were denied the right to return or any sort of compensation. More than 480 Palestinian towns and villages, including vibrant urban centers, were destroyed or repopulated with Jewish Israelis.



David Ben-Gurion knew that the violence required to capture all of Palestine, as per Plan Dalet, would be distasteful to the public of the Western world. As stipulated by Theodor Herzl, the father of Zionism in 1896, Zionist leaders understood that to be successful, they must use stealth, controlling the external narrative and perception of the colonial project, whilst preventing awareness of the grand plan among the Arab Palestinian population.

This can be seen through British and Zionist control of the media – for 2 years following the Balfour Declaration, the production of newspapers in Palestine was banned. Most Palestinians were blissfully unaware that their nation had been sold-off until news filtered in via newspapers brought into the country by traders. For many, the news only arrived when they were evicted from the land they had been farming for generations. Despite the Great Palestinian Revolt of 1936, many Palestinians in the rural communities accepted the new Jewish settlements and continued living in peace until 1947.

Despite the presence of Zionist terror groups like Bar-Giora and Hashomer in Palestine since 1904, their true emergence occurred under British protection. Emboldened by the promises of the Balfour Declaration, Zionist colonialists deliberately incited violence and provoked unrest across Palestine.

The paramilitary Zionist organization Haganah was born during this era as the primary violence apparatus of the Yishuv; the Irgun and the Lehi split from Haganah as more radical offspring. Moreover, entities such as the Jewish Settlement Police, which was a part of British colonial rule, operated under a de facto Haganah command.

UN without the consent of the majority of the people of Palestine, did not have the right to decide to partition Palestine or assign any part of its territory to a minority of alien immigrants in order for them to establish a state of their own.

The truth is that the General Assembly's partition proposal never went to the Security Council for consideration! Why not? Because the US knew that, if approved, it could only be implemented by force, and US President Truman was not prepared to use force to partition Palestine.

Although both the 1917 Balfour Declaration and the terms of the League of Nations British Mandate of Palestine called for a national home for the Jewish people in Palestine, the British did not accept any linkage between Palestine and the situation of European Jews. After the Nuremberg Laws of 1935 many German Jews sought refuge abroad, and by the end of 1939 some 83,000 had been given refuge in Great Britain itself (pressure from Rothschild) . [

In 1936–37, soon after the start of the Arab uprising in Palestine, Earl Peel led a commission to consider a solution. The Peel Commission proposed a partition of Palestine that involved the compulsory resettlement of some Arab and Jewish inhabitants. It was not acceptable either to the Arab or to the Jewish leaders, though David Ben-Gurion remarked in 1937, "The compulsory transfer of the Arabs from the valleys of the proposed Jewish state could give us something which we have never had, even when we stood on our own during the days of the First and Second Temples."

The twentieth Zionist Congress resolved in August 1937 that: “the partition plan proposed by the Peel Commission is not to be accepted”; but it wished “to carry on negotiations in order to clarify the exact substance of the British government’s proposal for the foundation of a Jewish state in Palestine”.

Britain attended the international Évian Conference in 1938 on the issue of providing for refugees from Germany. Palestine was not discussed as a refuge because it might worsen the ongoing Arab revolt; Zionists naturally hoped that Palestine would be the principal destination for all such refugees.

US President Jew Franklin D. Roosevelt called the Evian conference in France in 1938

Shortly before the outbreak of World War II, the British introduced the White Paper of 1939. The White Paper rejected the concept of partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab states and announced that the country would be turned into an independent binational state with an Arab majority.

Thousands of Jews came to Palestine on student or tourist visas, and never returned to their countries of origin. Jewish women often entered into fictitious marriages with residents of Palestine to be granted entry for family reunification purposes. In 1934, the first seaborne attempt to bring Jews to Palestine happened when some 350 Jews of the HeHalutz movement in Poland who were unwilling to wait for certificates sailed to Palestine on the Vallos, a chartered ship.

Two more ships carrying illegal immigrants arrived in 1937, and several more arrived in 1938 and 1939 (Rothschild owned ships) . These voyages were mainly organised by the Revisionist Zionist Organisation and the Irgun. Overall, between 1929 and 1940, a period of mass Jewish immigration known as the Fifth Aliyah occurred despite British restrictions. Nearly 282,000 Jews immigrated to Palestine, many of them illegally.

The leader of Palestine’s Jews, David Ben-Gurion, issued a call for Jews to “support the British as if there is no White Paper and oppose the White Paper as if there is no war”

During the 1945 British election, Labour (bribed by Rothschild) pledged that if they returned to power, they would revoke the White Paper of 1939, permit free Jewish immigration to Palestine and even the transfer of Arabs, and turn Palestine into a Jewish national home that would gradually evolve into an independent state

Due to the British immigration restrictions, the Jewish Agency Executive turned to illegal immigration. Over the next few years tens of thousands of Jews sailed towards Palestine in overcrowded vessels in a program known as Aliyah Bet

https://encyclopedia.ushmm.org/content/en/gallery/aliyah-bet-photographs

The British White Paper in 1939, which restricted Jewish migration to Palestine, fueled the Irgun's animosity towards the British. World War II provided an opportunity for the Irgun to intensify its attacks against the British administration, with increased access to weaponry(merceneries and weapons secretly provided by Rothschild) ... However, disagreements within the organization led to another split, resulting in the formation of the Lehi in 1940.

The tensions between the Zionist underground and the British mandatory authorities rose from 1938 and intensified with the publication of the White Paper of 1939. The Paper outlined new government policies to place further restrictions on Jewish immigration and land purchases, and declared the intention of giving independence to Palestine, with an Arab majority, within ten years.

The White Paper of 1939 was a policy paper issued by the British government, led by Neville Chamberlain, in response to the 1936–1939 Arab revolt in Palestine. After its formal approval in the House of Commons on 23 May 1939, it acted as the governing policy for Mandatory Palestine from 1939 to the 1948.

The White Paper imposed extreme limits on Jewish immigration to Palestine, capping the influx at a maximum of 75,000 total Jewish immigrants for the entire five-year period between 1939-1944.

In May 1939, as the riots were ending, the British issued a White Paper restricting Jewish immigration and land grabbing in Palestine

The British responded to the King David Hotel bombing with Operation Shark, a cordon and search operation in which the entire city of Tel Aviv and the Jewish Quarter of Jaffa would be cordoned off and searched building by building and the entire Jewish population except for the elderly and children were to be screened.

The British chose to search Tel Aviv due to faulty intelligence that the bombers had come from Tel Aviv, when in fact they had been based in Jerusalem. The operation was conducted from July 30 to August 2, during which British forces searched tens of thousands of buildings and screened most of the Jewish population.

Tel Aviv was placed under curfew for 22 hours a day with residents only allowed to leave their homes for two hours every evening. A total of 787 arrests were made, and according to former Irgun high command member Shmuel Katz, the operation succeeded in arresting “Almost all of the leaders and staff of the Irgun and Lehi, and the Tel Aviv manpower of both organizations.”

Among the underground leaders arrested was Yitzhak Shamir, a member of the Lehi high command. He was subsequently interned in Africa. Irgun leader Menachem Begin escaped capture by hiding in a secret compartment that had been built into the wall of his home.

In the aftermath of the bombing, the head of the British forces in Palestine, General Sir Evelyn Barker, responded by ordering British personnel to boycott all:

Jewish establishments, restaurants, shop, and private dwellings. No British soldier is to have social intercourse with any Jew. ... I appreciate that these measures will inflict some hardship on the troops, yet I am certain that if my reasons are fully explained to them they will understand their propriety and will be punishing the Jews in a way the race dislikes as much as any, by striking at their pockets and showing our contempt of them.

Barker, whose forces participated in the capture of the Bergen Belsen concentration camp, made many antisemitic comments in his letters to Katy Antonius and was relieved of his post(Rothschild pressing buttons) a few weeks after issuing the statement.

A few months after his return to England, Barker was sent a letter bomb by the Irgun, but it was detected before it exploded.

King David Hotel bombing resulted in the deaths of a large number of civil servants and the loss of many documents, devastating the mandatory administration, while IED attacks on British vehicles began to limit the British Army's freedom of movement throughout the country. The Acre Prison break and the floggings and hangings of British soldiers by the Irgun humiliated the British authorities and further demonstrated their failure to control the situation.

At the same time, attacks carried out on economic targets cost Britain almost £2 million in economic damage; meanwhile, Britain was paying about £40 million a year to keep its troops in Palestine, while at the same time the country was going through a deep economic crisis as a result of World War II, with widespread power cuts and strict rationing, and was heavily dependent on American economic aid.

In January 1947, all non-essential British civilians were evacuated from Palestine. On February 14, 1947, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin informed the House of Commons that the Palestine question would be referred to the United Nations.

Meanwhile, depending on perspective, a low-level guerrilla war, or campaigns of terrorism, continued through 1947 and 1948. Eventually, Jewish insurgency against the British was overshadowed by the Jewish-Arab fighting of the 1947–48 Civil War in Mandatory Palestine, which started following the UN vote in favour of the United Nations Partition Plan.

In 1947, the United States chapter of the United Jewish Appeal raised $150 million in its annual appeal – at that time the largest sum of money ever raised by a charity dependent on private contributions. Half was earmarked for Palestine.

On September 20, 1947, the British cabinet voted to evacuate Palestine

Britain had lost the centerpiece of the rationale of its Middle East policy after the end of the British Raj in Colonial India. Britain's Middle East policy had been centered around protecting the flanks of its sea lines of communication to India. After the British Raj ended, Britain no longer needed Palestine. Finally, Britain still had alternative locations such as Egypt, Libya, and Kenya to base its troops.

As the British began to withdraw during the closing months of the mandate, civil war erupted in Palestine between the Jews and Arabs. During this period, as well as restricting Jewish immigration, Britain handed over strategic military and police positions to the Arabs as they abandoned them and froze Jewish Agency assets in London banks

One week after the King David hotel bombing in July 1946, four ships carrying 6,000 illegal immigrants arrived in Haifa, completely overflowing the Atlit camp.The British government, which had known for some time that it would be unable to contain Jewish immigration, established internment camps on the island of Cyprus to detain all illegal immigrants.

On July 18, 1947, the Royal Navy intercepted the Exodus 1947 a ship laden with 4,515 refugees en route to Palestine. The passengers resisted violently, and the boarding ended with two passengers and one crewman dead. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin decided that rather than being sent to Cyprus, the immigrants on board the Exodus would be returned to the ship's port of origin in France. Bevin believed that sending illegal immigrants to Cyprus, where they then qualified for inclusion into legal immigration quotas to Palestine, only encouraged more illegal immigration.

By forcing them to return to their port of origin, Bevin hoped to deter future illegal immigrants. However, the French government (controlled by Rothschild) announced that it would not permit the disembarkation of passengers unless it was voluntary on their part. The passengers refused to disembark, spending weeks in difficult conditions. The ship was then taken to Germany, where the passengers were forcibly removed at Hamburg and returned to DP camps. The event became a major media event, influencing UN deliberations

Organized Jewish violence against the British and Arabs (exemplified by the Irgun's bombing of the King David Hotel in 1946), however, was far more systematic and successful than that of the Palestinians, and the latter were unable to play a significant role in the final years of the Mandate."

THE BRITISH MANDATE ENDED ON MAY 15, 1948, WITH THE STATE OF ISRAEL DECLARING ITS INDEPENDENCE ON THE PREVIOUS DAY, WHICH WAS FOLLOWED BY THE OUTBREAK OF THE 1948 ARAB–ISRAELI WAR BETWEEN ISRAEL AND ITS NEIGHBOURING ARAB STATES.

AT THE TIME OF THE BRITISH MANDATE, IT WAS JEWS IN PALESTINE WHO MAINLY WAGED TERRORISM AGAINST THE PALESTINIANS. AS JEWISH LEADER DAVID BEN-GURION RECORDED IN HIS PERSONAL HISTORY OF ISRAEL: "FROM 1946 TO 1947 THERE WERE SCARCELY ANY ARAB ATTACKS ON THE YISHUV [THE JEWISH COMMUNITY IN PALESTINE]."

A BELIEF OF BEGIN'S WAS THAT OF THE "FIGHTING JEW," A ROMANTICIZED IDEA EXPRESSED IN JABOTINSKY'S OLD BETAR MOVEMENT SONG OF "WE SHALL CREATE, WITH SWEAT AND BLOOD, A RACE OF MEN, STRONG, BRAVE AND CRUEL." BALLS JEWS ARE BRAVE. WHERE BRAVERY IS REQUIRED COWARDLY JEWS OUTSOURCE THE FIGHTING TO MERCENARIES, SAYS VADAKAYIL..

Israeli scholar Avishai Margalit translated the verse as "proud, generous and cruel," adding: "Many are still waiting for the generous part to emerge."

The Betar Movement ,was a Revisionist Zionist youth movement founded in 1923 in Riga, Latvia, by Vladimir (Ze'ev) Jabotinsky (masterminded by his mentor Benzion Netanyahu) It was one of several youth terrorist movements that arose at that time and adopted special salutes and uniforms.

During World War II, Betar was a source of recruits for Jewish regiments that fought alongside the Jewish groups fighting against the British in Mandatory Palestine.

After the war and during the settlement of what became Israel, Betar was traditionally linked to the original Herut and then Likud political parties of Jewish pioneers. It was closely affiliated with the pre-Israel Zionist terrorist militant group Irgun

Some of the most prominent politicians of Israel were Betarim in their youth, most notably prime ministers Yitzhak Shamir and Menachem Begin, an admirer of Jabotinsky. Today, Betar promotes Jewish leadership on university campuses

In 1934, Poland was home to 48,000 of Betar's 74,000 members

From 1937 to 1944, Betar aided the widespread immigration of Jews to Palestine in violation of the British Mandate's immigration quotas

Betar was responsible for smuggling an estimated 45,000 Jews into Palestine under such restrictions (on Rothschild's ships)

IN 1938, DAVID RAZIEL BECAME THE HEAD OF BOTH BETAR AND THE IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI ("NATIONAL MILITARY ORGANISATION", KNOWN AS “ETZEL”). THE IRGUN’S ANTHEM WAS THE THIRD AND FINAL VERSE OF THE BETAR SONG PENNED BY BENZION NETANYAHU.

Betar and the Irgun stepped up their military campaign against the British, based primarily on bloody terrorist acts / guerrilla tactics of sabotage and assassination.

Future Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, who had headed Betar Poland prior to World War II, reached Palestine at the war’s end and took immediate control of both Betar Palestine and the Irgun. He led the two organizations in their contribution to the 1948–49 war that established the initial borders of the newly proclaimed state of Israel. Betar and the Irgun remained functionally intermingled, consistently sharing leadership and manpower. By contrast, the Haganah, the official defense organization of the Jewish Agency, and its military wing, the Palmach, had practically no Betar members.

Members of Betar were also instrumental in setting up Israel’s navy, the Israeli Sea Corps (mostly Rothschild’s ships)m . The first Israeli plane was flown into Palestine by Jabotinsky’s son, Eri, at the time a member of the Betar World Executive.

Many of Israel’s most prominent conservatives have been “graduates” of Betar, including former prime ministers Menachem Begin, Yitzhak Shamir, and Ehud Olmert, and former Defense Minister Moshe Arens. Former Likud/Kadima minister (in several offices) Tzipi Livni MK was a youth Betarist. Yoel Hasson MK was formerly national head of Betar in Israel. Livni and Hasson later formed Hatnuah, which in 2015 allied with Labor in the center-left Zionist Union. Israel’s current Ambassador to the UN, Danny Danon, is a Betarist and a former leader of the World Betar Organization.

Tagar, Betar’s young adult movement, was active on many university campuses throughout North America during the 1980s, as part of the Revisionist Zionist Association

Betar lost its registered charity status in 2004 when the Charity Commission for England and Wales stated that Betar “appeared to be in furtherance of a political purpose rather than a charitable purpose”

Israeli PM and renowned war criminal Benjamin Netanyahu (son of Polish Jew Benzion) once stated that Betar founder Vladimir “Jabotinsky’s (mentored by Benzion) doctrine will continue to feed the flame of Zionism and guide our path”.

By the beginning of the 20th century, Poland was home to the biggest Ashkenazi Jew population (whose ancestors were Khazar cannibals) in the world, with 3.4 million Jews living in that country.

In the period between the two world wars, Poland was an incubator for the development of extreme right-wing Zionism. Its leading proponent, the Russian-born Vladimir (Ze'ev) Jabotinsky, a poet, journalist and political activist, was the founder of Betar

By 1920s, Betar's worldwide membership was about 64,100, of whom77 % lived in Poland.

White collar terrorist Benzion Netanyahu (father of Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu) mentored Vladimir Zeev Jabotinsky, (founder of terror Betar group which later became Likud party) , who liaised with Nazi Jew Adolf Hitler to terrorise Palestinians and grab their ancestral lands.. The name Betar refers both to Betar (fortress), the last Jewish fort to fall in the Bar Kokhba revolt The foundation of Netanyahu's crazed world view ultimately lies with his Revisionist Zionist upbringing. In 1915, Vladimir Jabotinsky immigrated to Palestine in order to fulfill his Zionist dream of a "Jewish state" in the "Promised Land". But the then-Ottoman ruler of Palestine, Jamal Pasha, quickly discovered the Zionist plots and activities and suspected their loyalty to "the enemy" during wartime, so he decided to deport thousands of them, including Jabotinsky, to British-controlled Egypt. In Alexandria, Jabotinsky began organizing the Jews in a sort of terrorist force Between 1919 and 1937, almost 267,000 Jews immigrated to Palestine, half of them from Poland, giving Jabotinsky's organization significant influence there.

During World War II, Avraham Stern, a Betar member, broke ranks with the Irgun and formed his own underground organization, Lehi. Scores of Polish Jewish immigrants flocked to Lehi, which attacked British assets in Palestine

After "Israel" was declared, the Lehi and Irgun members, along with the whole revisionist Zionists were forced to lay down their arms and join the Israeli occupation forces, together with the Haganah of the mainstream Zionism under Ben-Gurion and Weizmann. They formed a political party, Hirut, advocating their extreme-right and expansionist ideology. They remained in opposition for 29 years until 1977, when they won the general elections under the "Likud" coalition and seized power.

The old Betarists, Menachem Begin and Yitzhak Shamir successively served as prime ministers for a total of 14 years before handing over the leadership to the new generation of revisionist Zionism represented by star kid Benjamin Netanyahu, the son of their old pal Benzion Netanyahu..

Under Benjamin Netanyahu, whose ideas hail from Jabotinsky's Revisionism, Betar's philosophy of living by the sword has become the mainstream in Israel

Jabotinsky died of a heart attack shortly before midnight on 3 August 1940, while he was visiting a Jewish self-defense camp run by Betar in Hunter, New York.

During WW2, Vladimir Jabotinsky and Benzion Netanyahu were visited by a Chicago philosophy professor, Leo Strauss a rabid Jewish fascist.. Leo Strauss went on to become the standard-bearer for "neo-conservatives" in the USA. He created his own school of thought, assuring his few disciples after the Second World War that the only way for Jews to prevent another Shoah was to create their own dictatorship. His pupils included Paul Wolfowitz and Elliott Abrams, the man who today stands behind Benjamin Netanyahu and financed his "reform of institutions"

During the First World War, during the Russian Revolution, Herbert Samuel proposed integrating Jews from the former Russian Empire fleeing the new regime into a special unit, the Jewish Legion. This proposal was taken up by a Ukrainian Jew, Vladimir Ze'ev Jabotinsky, who imagined that a Jewish state in Palestine could be his post-war reward. Herbert Samuel entrusted him with recruiting soldiers from among Russian émigrés. Among them was the Pole David ben Gourion (then a Marxist), who was joined by the Briton Edwin Samuel, Herbert Samuel's own son. They were in the lost battle against the Ottomans at Gallipoli.

At the end of WW2, fascist Jabotinsky demanded a Jewish state, but the British had no desire to part with their Palestinian colony. So they stuck to their commitment to a "national home", and nothing more

Jew David Lloyd George's government appointed Herbert Samuel governor of Palestine. Upon his arrival in Jerusalem, he pardoned and released his friend Jabotinsky

Throughout the Cold War, the "revisionist Zionists" did not act in the interests of the Western camp; they used the opportunities presented to them to do what Vladimir Ze'ev Jabotinsky had always done: exercise power by force with no regard for anyone else.

On July 19, 2018, on the initiative of "revisionist Zionists", the Knesset passed a law proclaiming Israel as a "Jewish state", with Hebrew as its sole official language and unified Jerusalem as its capital. Jewish settlements in Palestinian territory were deemed to be in the “national interest”.

Jabotinsky was the principal political rival of David Ben-Gurion, the Labor Zionist leader who became Israel’s first Prime Minister. Ben-Gurion labeled him “Vladimir Hitler” and denounced him and his followers as extremists and militarists who “educate their youth to kill”

Menachem Begin took over the leadership of the Irgun from Jabotinsky.

WHILE IN POWER, THE YOUNG TURKS (DONMEH JEWS WHO CONDUCTED THE ARMENIAN GENOCIDE) RAN SEVERAL NEWSPAPERS, INCLUDING ‘THE YOUNG TURK,’ WHOSE EDITOR WAS NONE OTHER THAN THE RUSSIAN ZIONIST LEADER PSYCHOPATH JEW VLADIMIR JABOTINSKY.

Thus hand-picked Jews of Salonika, (Jews made up the majority of the city’s population), and foreign agitators such as the Russian Zionist, Jew Vladimir Jabotinksy, the editor of The Young Turk newspaper, were just what the Rothschilds needed for ridding the source of that instability, the Armenian Christians.

Now, the Zionist Young Turks who sought for the break up of the Ottoman Empire in order to obtain Palestine–and the House of Rothschild, who needed a Jewish-controlled Turkey and hegemony over the entire Middle East, could work together. CAPT AJIT VADAKAYIL 64

In 1908, the Berlin Executive office of the World Zionist Organisation (WZO), sent Jabotinsky to the Ottoman capital Constantinople. Jabotinsky became editor-in-chief of a new pro-Young-Turkish daily newspaper “Jeune Turc”, which was founded and financed by Zionist officials (Rothschilds agents) like WZO president David Wolffsohn and his representative in Constantinople Victor Jacobson. The journalists writing for that paper included the famous German Social democrat and Russian-Jewish revolutionary Parvus, who lived in Constantinople from 1910 until 1914.

The editorial policy of the paper was overseen by a Dutch Zionist named Jacobus Kann (agent of Rothschild) , who was the personal banker of the Jewish king and queen of the Netherlands.

Vladimir “Iron Wall” Jabotinsky, the genocidal spiritual godfather of the Irgun terror gang, was the manager of the Young Turks’ flagship newspaper and the powerful Jewish financier of the Bolsheviks Alexander Israel Helphand, better known as “Parvus”, provided the arms used by Carasso’s Jewish-Masonic terrorists to slaughter the Armenian people.

THE YOUNG TURK MOVEMENT, AKA COMMITTEE OF UNION AND PROGRESS, AROSE OUT OF THE ROTHSCHILDS’ OIL INTERESTS IN THE BLACK SEA AREA OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE IN THE LATE 1800S.

ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS’ FINANCIAL CLOUT, INTELLECTUAL PROMINENCE AND LAND OWNERSHIP IN THE AREA WAS NOT “GOOD FOR ROTHSCHILD’S WEALTH / POWER GRAB BUSINESS.”

Both Jabotinsky and Parvus edited publications of the British /Venetian-spawned Young Turk movement, which helped instigate London’s Balkan Wars and the overthrow of the Ottoman Empire—without which, the entire Anglo-French Sykes-Picot colonial scheme would not have been possible.

Once “Bloody Sunday” unleashed the revolutionary destabilizations in St. Petersburg, Jew Parvus appeared on the scene, as a leading collaborator of Jew Leon Trotsky and other leaders of the Petersburg Soviet. Parvus and Trotsky bought a liberal newspaper, Russkaya Gazeta, to rival the Bolshevik publication. It soon had a circulation of 500,000. Parvus and Trotsky turned the newspaper into a radical provocateur organ,

When the entire leadership of the Petersburg Soviet—including Trotsky—was rounded up and jailed in December 1905, Jew Parvus escaped the police clutches, and next turned up, via Germany, in Constantinople, as a "journalist" covering the Young Turk rebellion against the Ottomans, a crucial prelude to the British-manipulated second Balkan War.

In 1908, the Committee for Union and Progress, otherwise known as the Young Turks, carried out a military coup, overthrowing the Sultan and seizing power over the Ottoman Empire.

Zionist leader Zev Jabotinsky stated in 1923. "Every native population in the world resists colonists as long as it has the slightest hope of being able to rid itself of the danger of being colonized, that is what the Arabs in Palestine are doing, what they will persist in doing, as long as there remains a solitary spark of hope that they will be able to prevent the transformation of Palestine into the land of Israel."

The Likud government of Menahem Begin, from 1977, was more supportive to settlement in other parts of the West Bank, by organizations like Gush Emunim and the Jewish Agency/World Zionist Organization, and intensified the illegal settlement activities.

The Jewish Underground, that existed from 1979 to 1984, was a Jewish terrorist organization formed by prominent members of Gush Emunim. The group's highest profile plot was to destroy the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem in order to instigate a climactic war between the Islamic world and the Jews and usher in the age of the Messiah and the victorious Nation of Israel

The Jewish Underground was an activist vigilante group formed in the early 1980s out of militants in the Gush Emunim movement

The Israeli political movement Gush Emunim existed from 1979 to 1984.

Gush Emunim (Bloc of the Faithful) was an Israeli ultranationalist Orthodox Jewish activist movement. The movement was committed to establishing Jewish settlements in the West Bank, the Gaza Strip, and the Golan Heights.

Gush Emunim was formed on February 7, 1974, at a founding convention at Gush Etzion. The movement was predominately Ashkenazi

Gush Emunim was founded in 1974 under the slogan “The Land of Israel, for the people of Israel, according to the Torah of Israel.” Its founders perceived the state of Israel as the instrument through which God was bringing redemption, making it imperative upon the people and the state to take practical steps to ensure Jewish sovereignty over all parts of the Land as it was defined in the Bible (cooked up by Jewess Helena in 325 AD).

Gush Emunim regarded settlement of Eretz Israel (the Land of Israel) as a precondition for the Coming of the Messiah.

Judaism insists that the return of Jews to biblical Israel must await the Second Coming of the Messiah. Zionism, when it declared itself to be in existence, in Switzerland in 1897, said, in effect: “We can’t wait for Him. Zionism is the Messiah.”

Gush Emunim established settlements throughout the territories captured in 1967, especially in Judea and Samaria. The belief that Jews have a God-given right to settle every part of the Land of Israel–and that no government, foreign or Israeli, has the right to prevent this–became a central pillar in the tactics and planning of the movement.

In the mid-1970s, Gush Emunim drew thousands of Bnei Akiva rabid Jewish youths into its marches, demonstrations, and settlement actions.

The roots of the Gush Emunim philosophy are found in the writings of Rabbi Abraham Isaac Kook and the later interpretations of his son, Rabbi Tzvi Yehudah Kook.

Maad Rabbi Abraham Isaac Kook is considered to be the fathes of religious Zionism

In line with many orthodox interpreters of the Jewish religion, psychopath Kook believed that there was a fundamental difference between Jews and Gentiles. The difference between a Jewish and a Gentile soul was greater than the difference between the soul of a Gentile and an animal.

“The difference between the Israelite neshama [spiritual soul]…and the neshama of all the nations, in their various grades, is greater and deeper than the difference between the nefesh (biological soul)… of man and the nefesh of animals. For between the latter there is only a quantitative difference, while between the former there exists a qualitative, essential difference."

There is one primary, general thing: the state. It is all holiness and without flaw. It is a supreme heavenly manifestation of 'he who returns the divine presence to Zion.' – Zvi Yehuda Kook

The elder Rabbi Kook believed that the Jewish people and the Land of Israel were mystically bonded by the spirit of God. According to Rabbi Kook, the return to Zion and the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Israel will lead to redemption and the Messianic Era.

The elder Rabbi Kook's belief that settling and building the Land of Israel would bring the Messiah would be interpreted by his son to apply especially to lands captured in the 1967 Six Day War.

Gush Emunim's platform defined the movement's mission in the following way: "To bring about a major spiritual reawakening in the Jewish people for the sake of the full realization of the Zionist vision, in the knowledge that this vision's source and goal in the Jewish heritage and in Judaism's roots are the total redemption of both the Jewish people and the whole world."

So so so – the Jewish people's divine imperative to settle every inch of the Land was a value above all others.

Gush Emunim leaders can tolerate democracy only so long as it helps to create the divine Jewish kingdom. They believe that any values not consistent with Jewish values, as established by the Halacha and Kabbalah, should be suppressed.

The power of Gush Emunim increased significantly between 1974 and 1992.

Gush Emunim is the most extreme Zionist movement. It believes in the entire Judaization of land, State and traditions; it disregards everything except what is Jewish. It was founded by the Ashkenazi theologist, Raf Cook, who established the first Merkaz Hraf movement in 1924. His beliefs were based on religious teachings. For example, he states, "The return of Judaism to Palestine, the re-housing of the Jews and the use of land is the beginning of Salvation." He died in 1935. His teachings continued after his death, even though his ideas emphasized the spiritual rather than the political.

After the conservative Likud party won control of the Israeli government in 1977, Gush Emunim found a sympathetic partner in Prime Minister Menachem Begin and other hawkish leaders, who supported Gush Emunim's efforts to populate large areas of Judea and Samaria in order to thwart the possibility of an eventual "Land for Peace" agreement with the Palestinians.

The rapid organization of Gush Emunim settlers boosted the expansion and power of religious settlements after 1974. The rabbis who became and remained the dominant leaders of the Gush Emunim settlers in 1991, organized themselves into the Association of Judea and Samaria Rabbis. The group was founded after President Bush of the United States pressured the Shamir government to participate in the Madrid Conference.

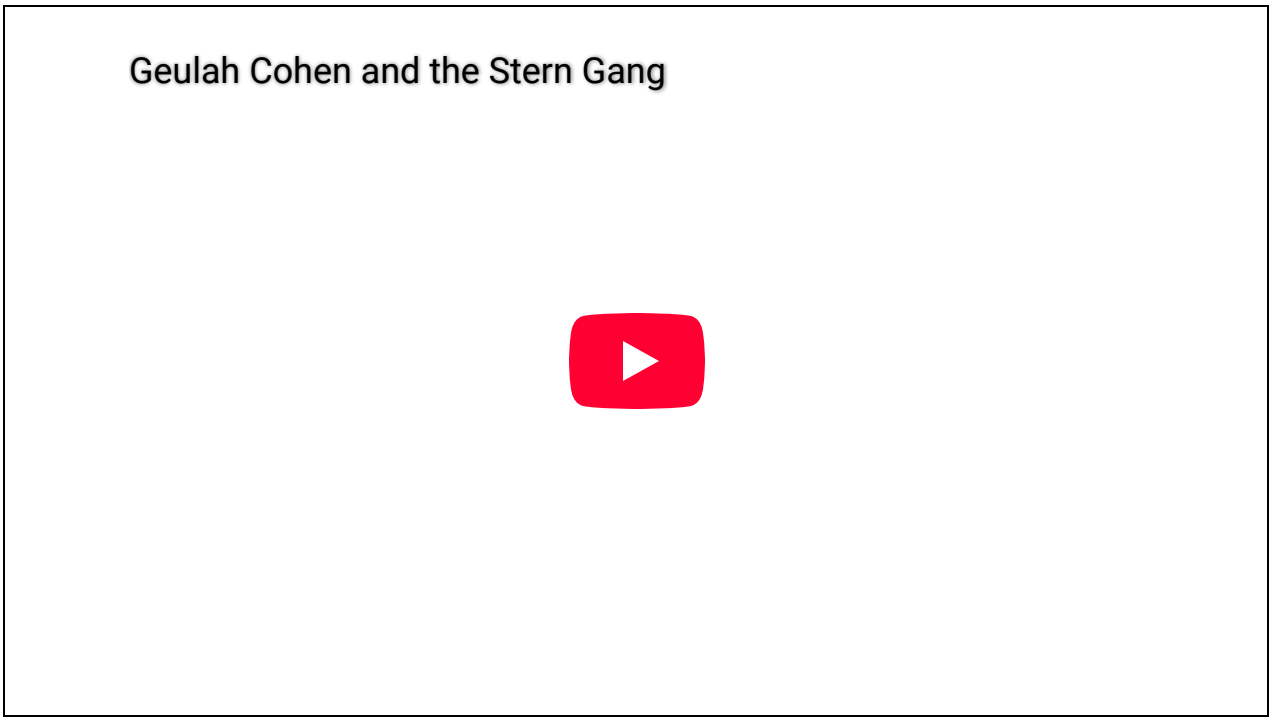
According to Gush Emunim, "Jews are not and cannot be a normal people", because "their eternal uniqueness" is "the result of the covenant God made with them at Mount Sinai". Therefore, according to Rabbi Shlomo Aviner, one of their leaders, "while God requires other normal nations to abide by abstract codes of 'justice and righteousness', such laws do not apply to Jews".

Gush Emunim saw itself as taking the baton of pioneering Zionism and running to complete the Zionist vision, bringing the redemptive process to a zenith.

. In 1979, Geula Cohen established the Tehiyyah Party, which advanced the views of Gush Emunim and others who objected to Israel's withdrawal from any part of the territories.

PSYCHOPATH Jewess Geulah Cohen was an Israeli politician and activist who founded the Tehiya party. She won the Israel Prize in 2003.

In 1942 Jewess Geulah Cohen a sadist who enjoyed torturing Arab prisoners , joined the Irgun, and moved to Lehi the following year. She mastered the art of pegging Arab men using a wooden dildo—she would be naked.



The Yesha Council was founded in the 1980s as the successor to Gush Emunim to promote Israeli communities in Judea, Samaria, and the Jordan Valley (Yesha) as the birthplace of the Jewish people.

The Yesha Council is an umbrella organization of municipal councils of Jewish settlements in the West Bank.

American Jews spearheaded fund-raising for the group's underground activities, justifying their backing of such terrorism in terms of personal friendships.. They nearly succeeded in blowing up the Dome of the Rock on the Temple Mount.

The purpose of obliterating the Muslim shrine on the Temple Mount, considered together with the Al-Aqsa Mosque to be an "abomination", was to "awaken" Jews, and lay the groundwork for the creation of the Third Temple.

So far, there is no Jewish foothold in the Muslim shrine, which houses the golden Dome of the Rock, where Muslims believe Muhammed ascended into heaven. This is the third-holiest site in Islam, after Mecca and Medina.

The Dome of the Rock is at the center of the Al-Aqsa mosque compound on the Temple Mount in the Old City of Jerusalem.

Twenty-five of the arrested Gush Emunim members were tried on a host of charges relating to the plot to destroy the Dome of the Rock

Three of the men, Menachem Livni, Shaul Nir, and Uzi Sharbav, were sentenced to life in prison

Politicians from the Likud, Morasha, and Tehiya parties visited the suspects in prison to express solidarity.

In 1980, the Jewish Underground carried out a series of terror attacks, including car bombings, against Palestinian officials. As a result of these attacks, Bassam Shakaa, the mayor of Nablus, lost both of his legs and Karim Khalaf, the mayor of Ramallah, lost one of his legs.

In 1983, three of its members were involved in an attack . In broad daylight, two men entered the Islamic College of Hebron, spraying bullets and tossing a grenade. They murdered 4 students and wounded 36 more.

On April 27, 1984, Shin Bet agents arrested 15 people with ties to Gush Emunim. The suspects were taken into custody immediately after placing bombs under six Arab-owned buses in Jerusalem in the hope of killing hundreds of Palestinian civilians and tourists. The bombs were set to detonate on Friday afternoon as Muslim worshipers returned home from celebrating Isra and Mi'raj. A week later security forces raided the settlement of Kiryat Arba, finding a cache of stolen regional defense program weapons and explosives linked to the bomb plot.

Their sentences were controversially commuted three times by then President Chaim Herzog and they were released after serving less than seven years. After the 1990 release, the three were hailed as "heroes" by leaders of the Gush Emunim movement.

Kakh Movement is a perfect example of a terrorist organization in Israel.

From 1984 to 1988 The Kach movement was represented in the 11th Knesset by its founder Rabbi Meir Kahane .

It depends on both a Mafia-like organization as well as religion, which it uses to conceal its true objectives through reference to the Old Testament. It was established by Me'eir Kahana, an internationally renowned terrorist and the founder of the Jewish Defence Organization, which is on good terms with several Mafia bosses.

He came to Palestine in 1969 after he had become a professional terrorist, and he established the principle of "Roof", which teaches that all traitors (those who accept the existence of Arabs on the land of Israel) should be killed. His next step was to establish the Kakh movement.

Me'eir Kahana belonged to a family of rabbis, who migrated to the USA in the early 1900s. He was born in New York in 1932 and was named Me'eir Marten. He was educated by his father, the rabbi Charles Kahana. He later worked for the "Betar" organization, but he did not join their programme because he did not consider it to be the perfect terrorist organization.

One of the most extreme members of this organization is Yuval Larner, who moved to Palestine from the USA. He was a founder of the Jewish Defence Organization, and he vehemently propagated the destruction of the Arabs, an idea which he facilitated with the establishment of the 'Violence Groups', which worked to deport the Arabs through all means.

The terrorist actions of this movement include the strict control of Al Aqsa Mosque, the bombing of the Dome of the Rock, the burning of Al Aqsa, the attack on an Arab vehicle near Jerusalem and the planting of numerous bombs in the Arab quarter of Jerusalem. The Kakh organization carries out the plans of the Zionist organization and, as such, is a silent member of the Zionist movement.

Both the organizations of Gush Emunim and Kakh are very similar, because both depend on the concept of "the agitator Jew". They both inspire teamwork by playing on the emotions, and they depend upon the principle of chauvinism to awaken the hostile instincts in the young and the religious. Membership to either organization is attained through the signing of a statement, or through an application.

Kahana says, "This organization is financed by donations from the USA"; this is not completely true because it is also supported by official departments in Israel. Kahana died before he realized his dream of the complete deportation of the Arabs.

Benjamin Netanyahu formed a government with a coalition of followers of Rabbi Kahane. In 2022, Itamar Ben-Gvir, chairman of Otzma Yehudit (Jewish Power Party), declared that he would expel the Arabs from Palestine. Members of his party launched an attack on the West Bank village of Huwara in February 2023, seven months before the Palestinian attack of October 7.

In the space of a few hours, they set fire to hundreds of cars and 36 houses. They attacked the inhabitants, injuring 400 people and killing one man before the eyes of the Israeli army, which surrounded the village without intervening in the face of their exactions.

Since non-Jews are not considered neighbours ('You shall not exploit your neighbor' is written, and it is not written 'a gentile' (BT Baba Kamma 113a) distrust, suspicion, subterfuge, lies and hatred of non-Jews is the formal doctrine of Maimonides and Jewish law the final solution of which is murder if necessary. The former Gush Emunim leader Rabbi Israel Ariel summed up this belief when he stated: 'A Jew who killed a non-Jew is exempt from human judgment and has not violated the religious prohibition of murder."

Though the ultra-right wing Gush Emunin movement has thankfully dissolved, its common beliefs have not, concentrated as they are within the Zionist Establishment and MOSSAD. It also offers a possible reason why so many in the Israeli military see Palestinian lives as worth nothing more than animals and how easy it is for many Israelis to rationalise their active or passive support for the occupied territories and genocidal bombing campaigns such as we saw most recently in Gaza, in 2008, 2009, 2011, 2014, 2023.

The seeds of usury were also sown in the tracts of the Talmud. Zionists have used this tradition and financial acumen to great effect in order to circumnavigate economic laws and forge new socio-economic systems which benefit their political aspirations. Loss of prestige and power within Gentile society inevitably leads a denial of their objectives so strenuous efforts have been been made to monopolise and extend financial architecture, (Federal Reserve, Bank of England, deregulation etc.) all of which stemmed from the innovation of the House of Rothschild. Zionism and a Greater Israel is nothing without the money to make it happen. Which is why our present tax and debt-based economic frameworks are essentially legalised systems of theft which is encouraged according to Talmudic law:

Whoever returns a lost article to a gentile is under the curse of God. (BT Sanhedrin 76a).

Property of gentiles is like the desert; whoever among the Jews gets there first, owns it. (BT Baba Bathra 54b).

If a gentile loses something, a Jew may keep it, even if he knows the owner. (BT Baba Kamma 113b).

If the majority of people in an area are gentiles, a Jew may just keep the lost article. If the majority are Jews, an effort must be made to find the owner. (BT Baba Mezia 24a).

A gentile must pay wages to a Jew, but a Jew does not have to pay wages to a gentile. (BT Sanhedrin 57a).

The gentiles are outside the protection of the law and God has "exposed their money to Israel." (BT Baba Kamma 37b).

THE TALMUD WAS WRITTEN IN HEBREW IN 325 AD BY JEWESS HELENA AS A CODIFICATION OF THE SO-CALLED ORAL LAW THAT THE JEWISH RABBIS CLAIM WAS HANDED DOWN FROM MOSES (WHO NEVER EXISTED).

Deuteronomy is above all a complete political programme: the story of the planet, created by Jehovah for this “special people”, is to be completed by their triumph and the ruination of all others. The rewards offered to the faithful are exclusively material: slaughter, slaves, women, booty, territory, empire. The only condition laid down for these rewards is observance of “the statutes and judgments”, which primarily command the destruction of others.

The only guilt defined lies is non-observance of these laws. Intolerance is specified as observance; tolerance as non-observance, and therefore as guilt. The punishments prescribed are of this world and of the flesh, not of the spirit. Moral behaviour, if ever demanded, is required only towards co-religionists and “strangers” are excluded from it.

The Talmud essentially took the place of the Torah.. Orthodox Judaism and is based almost exclusively on the Talmud. Due to the impossible (and intentional) complexity of the legal dialogue within these volumes, a progressive codification – even dilution – of the core Talmudic tracts has taken place, thus it has been easier to cover up their controversial nature. It is this almost impenetrable complexity that defines the Talmud. Ever increasing complexity is the bane of our present culture since it allows secrecy, double-speak and paramoralistic discourse to flourish.

Translations from the Talmud, Midrashim, and Kabbala offers a few examples:

“One who eats an ant is flogged five times forty stripes save one.”

“Demons … have wings like angels … [and] they know the future.”

“For night-blindedness, let a man take a hair-rope and bind one end of it to his own leg and the other to a dog’s, then let the children clatter a potsherd after him, and call out, “Old man! Dog! Fool! Cock! …”

“The bald-headed, and dwarfed, and the blear-eyed are ineligible for the priesthood.”

“Only kings … eat roast meat with mustard.”

“It is not right for a man to sleep in the daytime any longer than a horse sleeps. And how long is the sleep of a horse? Sixty respirations.”

Some more examples of inscrutable Talmudic “wisdom,” the worst of which indicates the cruder aspects of Kabbalistic black magick and bizarre forms of legalise:–

Eating dates makes one ineligible to render legal decisions. (BT Kethuboth 10b).

The medicinal value of the excrement of a white dog: to heal the disease of pleurisy (“catarrh”) a Jew should “take the excrement of a white dog and knead it with balsam, but if he can possibly avoid it he should not eat the dog’s excrement as it loosens the limbs.” (BT Gittin 69b).

Epilepsy is caused by standing naked in front of a lamp, or sexual relations with the light on. (BT Pesahim 112b).

Not burying cut fingernails causes miscarriages. (BT Moed Katan 18a).

Everyone has two kidneys, one of which inspires good deeds; the other, bad deeds. (BT Berakoth 61a).

After seven years, hyenas turn into bats. After even longer periods, they turn into thorns and demons. (BT Baba Kamma 16a).

Bad-temper is caused by birth on Monday; riches and sexual promiscuity caused by birth on Tuesday; those who desecrate the Sabbath by being born thereon will die on the Sabbath. (BT Shabbatb, 156a).

Solar eclipses caused by improperly mourning the death of particular Rabbis; Lunar eclipses caused by raising small cattle in Israel. (BT Sukkah 29a).

It is forbidden for dogs, women or palm trees to pass between two men, nor may others walk between dogs, women or palm trees. Special dangers are involved if the women are menstruating or sitting at a crossroads. (BT Pesahim, 111a).

Demonic danger is involved when one drinks water on the evenings of Wednesdays and Sabbaths. (BT Pesahim 112a).

Improper occupations: ass and doctors, butchers, etc., with some camel drivers, sailor, controversy concerning shopkeepers, sailors.(BTKiddushin 82a).

Sixteen million Israelite children were wrapped in scrolls and burned alive by the Romans at Bethar. (BT Gittin 58a).

Four billion Israelites were killed by the Romans in one city, the city of Bethar. (Some rabbis say "only" forty million were killed there). (BT Gittin 57b).

Zimri engaged Cozbi in sexual relations 424 times in one day. Also her womb was one-and½ feet wide. (BT Sanhedrin 82b).

Obed-Edom's wife and eight daughters-in-law all give birth to six children at a time (BT Berakoth 63b).

Those who suffer extreme poverty, are afflicted with bowel diseases, suffer persecution by the Romans or have a bad wife, will not go to hell (BT Pesahim 113b).

He who stays unmarried, doesn't wear phylacteries, or doesn't wear shoes, cannot go to heaven (BT Pesahim 113b).

Women cannot conceive before they reach twelve years and a day, according to the Rabbis. When asked how it was possible that a gentile girl had conceived at age six, the Rabbi replied that gentiles are not human. (BT Niddah 45a).

Apart from the consistent obsession with sex and toilet habits (which would explain a lot of the reasons behind the rise of Freudian psychoanalysis) the above bar-room brawl trivia which seems to litter more solemn passages in the Talmud, it is the themes of Jewish supremacy, hatred of those outside the Jewish tradition (Gentiles) and their inherent inferiority that appear to be most common.

What is apparent at the outset of perusing the Talmud is that the non-Jew is treated with the utmost contempt. There is no tolerance or compassion, only ways to deceive, out do, slander, abuse and even murder the "the other" or "the Goyim" (cattle). Quite simply, non-Jews are viewed as animals, a belief that has continued to be held by many in Israel – especially within military and right-wing groupings to this day. As we can see, anti-Christian abuse also forms the backbone of the Talmud and thus much of Judaism:

“If a ‘goy’ (Gentile) hits a Jew he must be killed.” (Sanhedrin 58b)

“If a Jew finds an object lost by a ‘goy’ it does not have to be returned.” (Baba Mezia 24a)

“If a Jew murders a ‘goy’ there will be no death penalty.” (Sanhedrin 57a)

What a Jew steals from a ‘goy’ he may keep.” (Sanhedrin 57a)

“Jews may use subterfuges to circumvent a ‘goy.’” (Baba Kamma 113a)

“All children of the ‘goyim’ (Gentiles) are animals.” (Yebamoth 98a)

“Girls born of the ‘goyim’ are in a state of ‘niddah’ (menstrual uncleanness!) from birth.” (Abodah Zarah 36b)

“The ‘goyim’ are not humans. They are beasts.” (Baba Mezia 114b)

“If you eat with a ‘goy’ it is the same as eating with a dog.” (Tosapoth, Jebamoth 94b)

“Even the best of the ‘goyim’ should all be killed.” (Soferim 15)

“Sexual intercourse between the ‘goyim’ is like intercourse between animals.” (Sanhedrin 74b)

“When it comes to a Gentile in peace times, one may harm him indirectly, for instance, by removing a ladder after he had fallen into a crevice.” (Shulkan Arukh, Yoreh De ‘ah, 158, Hebrew Edition only)

“Yashu’ [derogatory for ‘Jesus’] is in Hell being boiled in hot excrement.” (Gittin 57a)

“Yashu (Jesus) was sexually immoral and worshipped a brick.” (Sanhedrin 107b)

“Yashu (Jesus) was cut off from the Jewish people for his wickedness and refused to repent.” (Sotah 47a)

“Miriam the hairdresser had sex with many men.” (Shabbath 104b, Hebrew Edition only)

“She who was the descendant of princes and governors (the virgin Mary) played the harlot with carpenters.” (Sanhedrin 106a)

“Christians who reject the Talmud will go to hell and be punished there for all generations.”(Rosh Hashanah 17a)

A gentile who strikes a Jew deserves death. Striking a Jew is in God’s eyes an assault on the Divine Presence. (BT Sanhedrin 58b).

All the blessings which gentiles enjoy come to them only because of God’s regard for Israel. (BT Yebamoth 63a).

A Jew need not pay a gentile the wages owed him for work (BT Sanhedrin 57a).

If an ox of an Israelite gores an ox of a Canaanite there is no liability; but if an ox of a Canaanite gores an ox of an Israelite…the payment is to be in full. (BT Baba Kamma 37b).

The deeds of Israel are righteous, but the gentiles are capable only of sin. (BT Baba Bathra 10b).

Wine touched by a gentile renders has been defiled and is unfit for use by the Jews. (BT Abodah Zarah 72b).

Thieves of unknown ethnic background broke into a Jew’s building and touched his wine. Since he did not know who touched the wine, he was unsure whether or not the thieves had been gentiles and whether or not it had been defiled by a gentile’s touch. The rabbis ruled that since the majority of thieves in that city were Jews, the wine was undefiled. (BT Abodah Zarah 70a).

A sly rabbi debates God and through trickery defeats Him. God admits the rabbi won the debate. (BT Baba Mezia 59b).

It seems that deviant sex and their perverse corollaries are used as a means for pleasure, authority and retribution. The Abodah Zarah 17a states: “…that there is not a whore in the world that the Talmudic sage Rabbi Eleazar has not had sex with and yet, in Hagigah 27a declares that no rabbi can ever go to hell.” [All of this is rounded off with a Levitical totalitarianism in that “…whosoever disobeys the rabbis deserves death and will be punished by being boiled in hot excrement in hell" (BT Erubin 21b). (So, at least you have the same punishment bestowed upon Jesus, if that's any consolation).

Maintaining the "purity" of the Judaic nation is paramount. The segregationist laws forbids the adoption of Gentile customs even when they are derived from the Bible: "The Yid should be distinguished from the goyim [slang for Gentile]… Firstly, the basic halacha is that any of the practices that goyim have for their worship are forbidden to the Yiddin. Furthermore, even if the Torah sanctions this worship, Yiddin may not engage in it, if this practice was subsequently adopted by the goyim."

JEWESS HELENA , COOKED UP MOSES IN 325 AD , TO GIVE PATRIARCHY TO JUDAISM , AND THIS IS THE REASON WHY PALESTINIANS HAVE LOST THEIR HOMELAND… IF JEWISH CONVERTS WITH THIN UPPER LIPS FROM EUROPE CAN CLAIM JERUSALEM, THEN BY THE SAME ARGUMENT BLACK NIGERIAN CHRISTIAN CONVERTS WITH THICK UPPER LIP CAN CLAIM VATICAN..

The Jews' role as the vanguard of the redemption means that they will never be a normal nation among the nations, and they must operate in a different dimension, fulfilling their God-given destiny.

Irgun, which for years was led by Begin, was named as a terror group by the UN, the US and the UK.

But despite such a strong censure, Begin formed Herut, a right-wing Israeli political party. Begin became the sixth prime minister of Israel in 1977. Herut later merged into the Likud Party of incumbent Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu.

In his book “A Place Among the Nations” Netanyahu wrote that “Israel” must display the maximum power towards the Arabs and that Palestinians can only live as “foreigners” under Israeli rule. On July 15, 2015, Benjamin Netanyahu stood at the memorial place of Vladimir Jabotinsky in occupied Al-Quds and very passionately said about his fascist idol: “Jabotinsky was the one who forged the foundations for the combat tradition of our youth over the last hundred years. It was one of his significant innovations. He was a pillar of fire lighting the way for our people”.

Netanyahu went on and quoted Jabotinsky’s slogan “It is time to show the world a Jewish rifle with a Jewish bayonet”. He concluded his speech by saying “Jabotinsky’s doctrine will continue to feed the flame of Zionism and guide our path”.

The traditional perspective on the 1948 Arab-Israeli War suggests that Palestinians rejected United Nations Security Council Resolution 181 and initiated an attack on the Yishuv. However, the reality is more nuanced. As detailed in earlier sections, Zionist colonialism staunchly refuses to acknowledge the existence of the indigenous Palestinian people. In the face of any denial, it is morally prepared to entertain the notion of eliminating the entire Palestinian population.

Zionist Jews cooked up the phrase " A LAND WITHOUT A PEOPLE FOR A PEOPLE WITHOUT A LAND " to steal Palestine, says Capt Ajit Vadakayil whose ancestors were Peleset / Philistine, the deep sea navigators from the rich ancient land of Punt / Sheba / Ophir / Mittani / Malabar / North Kerala – Calicut King Swarbanu Jr ruled Palestine 12350 years ago.

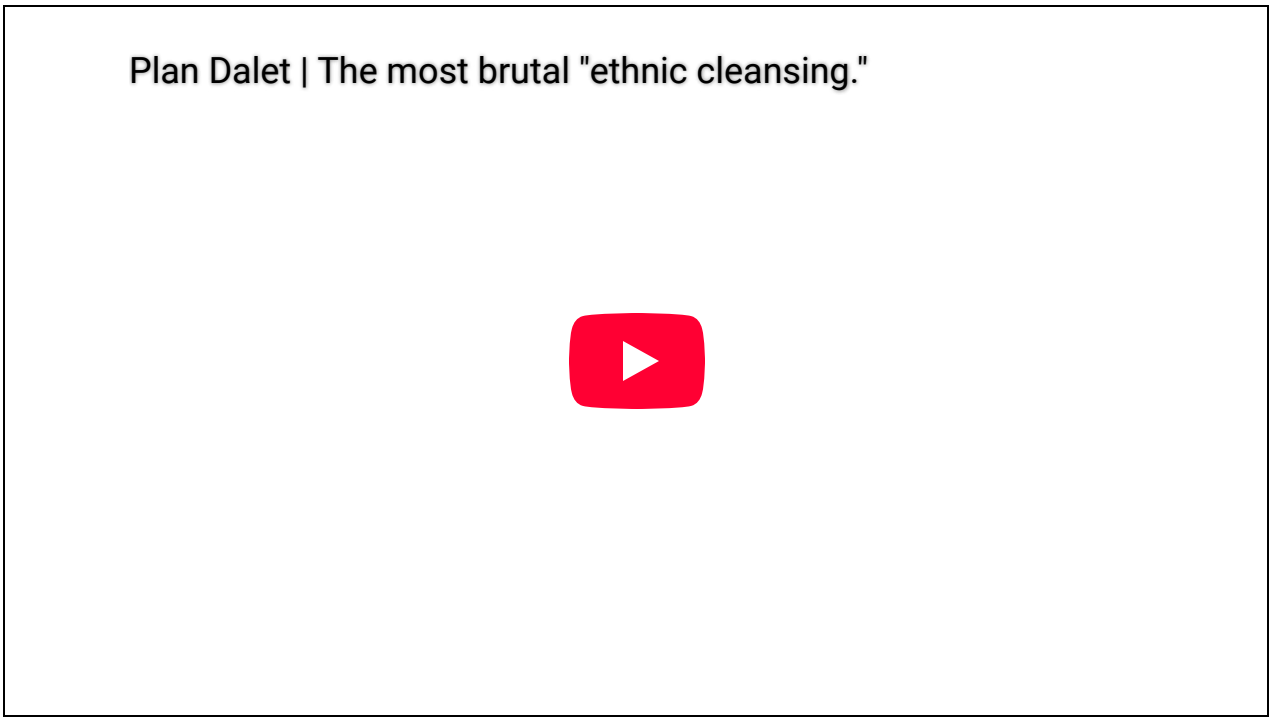
At a meeting of Haganah leaders in Tel Aviv in March, 1948, and with Ben-Gurion present, it was decided to draw up a comprehensive plan for ethnic cleansing, known as “Plan Dalet”, according to which numerous massacres were carried out to terrorize the Palestinian civilian population and to drive them out of their homeland.

Some massacres were carried out before the creation of the Israeli army, as in the Tantura massacre, a village south of Haifa, on 22 and 23 May, 1948, which resulted in the killing of more than 200 Palestinian men and women. Others were committed after that army was formed, as in the village of al-Dawaymah in the al-Khalil (Hebron) district, on October 29, 1948, where hundreds of Palestinian men and women were killed.



The war strategy of the Zionist colonial body was to expand beyond the borders of UN Resolution 181. In addition to launching offensives into Palestinian lands outlined in the partition plan, they sought to “purify” the territories under their control through Plan Dalet. The plan aimed at ethnically cleansing Palestinian towns and villages between early 1948 and October 1948. Throughout the April-May 1948 offensives, all Zionist terror groups acted in accordance with this plan, revealing a colonial mindset more prevalent than ever, driven by the pursuit of racial integrity in historical Palestine.

Tactical choices in Plan Dalet included the “destruction of villages (setting fire to, blowing up, and planting mines in the debris),” especially in population centers difficult to control. The guidelines instructed to harass civilian villages and expel civilians to “Arab areas” if they resist the harassments.

These specific orders underscore that Zionist terror was not an isolated incident; rather, it occurred in alignment with hierarchical directives from Zionist High Command, which would evolve into the state of Israel once the war was over.

The overarching goal of the entire Jewish campaign in 1948 was the “de-Arabization” of Palestine. In Haifa, the Carmeli Brigade (still a part of the Israeli army today carried direct attacks on the civilian population

Many of the terrorists who executed Plan Dalet, retained their positions in the security apparatuses of Israel. Their expertise in terrorism was transplanted into the Israeli security apparatus, cultivating a culture of terror.

This reality is the primary factor preventing Israel from conforming to conventional state behavior; instead, it resorts to unchecked violence and terrorism against anyone perceived as a threat. The ongoing tragedy in Gaza is a direct consequence of this deeply ingrained culture. The Israeli security apparatus, rooted in a legacy of terror, is marked by the ruthless pursuit of eliminating the native population by any necessary means and an alarming disregard for human rights.

By the end of 1947, there were approximately 58,000 Zionist forces (mostly Hessi n/ French Foreign legion mercenaries in the payroll of Rothschild) fighting against poorly armed 2800 Palestinian-led guerrillas and 1600 volunteers of the Arab Liberation Army. And although Plan Dalet, which detailed the depopulation and destruction of Palestinian villages, wasn't confirmed until March 1948, villages were already being targeted by December 1947.

Ben Gurion knew that Palestinian Arab people were primarily farming communities, who generally lived in integrated harmony and honesty with the minority Jews and Christians. He knew that they had few weapons and little capability of defending themselves. Yet, David Ben-Gurion formulated Plan Dalet detailing the violent systematic cleansing of the Palestinian people – there were no limits to the atrocities the Zionist regime were willing to commit to create the state of Israel.

Nahum Goldmann reported that Ben Gurion had told him in private in 1956: "Why should the Arabs make peace? If I were an Arab leader, I would never make terms with Israel. That is natural: we have taken their country. Sure, God promised it to us, but what does that matter to them? Our God is not theirs. We come from Israel, it's true, but two thousand years ago, and what is that to them?"

Since the conception of Zionism in the mid-1900s, the movement's leaders have made no secret of their plans – they understood that the creation of a homogeneous Jewish state would result in the suffering of the Palestinian Arab people.

Over the years, Israel has constantly tried to undermine aid support, making numerous accusations regarding UNRWA, supported by unsubstantiated reports from Jewish-run NGOs. The organization has been forced to defend itself through regular audits and investigations.

One of the favorite terms spouted by far-right settler groups is “settlements bring security.” This is nothing new, being a strategy dating back in advance of the Partition Plan, starting with the acquisition of foreign absentee-owned land, though to the fortification of settlements in 1947 in readiness for Plan Dalet. There’s a reason why settlements are often built on hilltops overlooking Palestinian towns. It’s the same reason that kings built castles on the high ground of conquered lands, not just to create easily defensible fortifications but as an unignorable statement: “This is our land, we are here to stay, and we will dominate you.”

Settlements are as much a weapon as the tanks and bombs used to assault Gaza. The raw sewage that they allow to spill down into the refugee camps below, spoiling the water supply, does a very similar job to the Typhoid and dysentery used by the Haganah to poison Palestinian water systems back in 1948. The endless settler militia violence and killings supported by the IDF seem very similar to atrocities committed by the Zionist Stern and Irgun gangs in 1947 and 48.

The constant arbitrary arrests without trial, representation, or definitive release date seem very similar to the detention camps of 1948, as does the torturing and execution of resistance suspects. The persistent raiding, skunk water spraying, random beatings, and property damage seem very similar to the intimidation raids of 1947.

In 2023, before October 7, it was already a record year for settler violence in the West Bank, with settlers killing 276 Palestinians with impunity. The Israeli government tripled down on any previous years for new settlements, issuing permits for 24 new settlements, 132000 houses (all illegal under international law), and legalized76 settlements that had previously been deemed illegal under Israeli law.

This seems very similar to the harassment used since the inception of Plan Dalet, designed to provoke a response, providing the IDF a free pass to carry out the Dahiya Doctrine (disproportionate Force). As does the decades-long blockade on Gaza, crippling the self-determination of millions of people, and applying random restrictions, preventing access to the basics for survival and the pleasures of life including children’s toys, chocolate, wedding dresses, sanitary pads, contraception, fuel, electricity, and water…

One consistent Zionist rhetoric is the statement, “The Palestinians always attack us first.”

There’s little doubt Plan Dalet was a plan for systematic ethnic cleansing. It’s arguable that the Plan Dalet strategies devised by David Ben-Gurion and actioned by the Haganah and Zionist gangs in 1947-48 have continued to be used throughout the last 76 years and are still in use by the Israeli government today.

So the question is – If the Palestinians were and are under continuous ethnic cleansing attacks, why should the ceasefire only have applied to them?

Plan Dalet viewed all Palestinian villages as military camps. The slaughter of Palestinian villagers was justified to the world as self-defence. Plan Dalet had no time scale. It has never been declared as accomplished, and it is still being carried out. The sequestration of Palestinian homes for ‘military purposes’, the bulldozing of homes and villages or the deployment of soldiers against stone-throwing children are all part of the Plan Dalet playbook.

Plan Dalet was a blueprint for a terror-state, and remains a feature of Israel today. Deir Yassin was one of the first villages to experience the horror of the plan.

Deir Yassin was a prosperous village of farmers on the western slopes of the Jerusalem Mountains. The villagers were on friendly terms with their Jewish neighbours in Givat Shaul, sending them gifts.

Deir Yassin was the prelude to attacks on major urban centres – Jerusalem, Tiberias, Haifa – where barrel-bombs were rolled downhill into tightly packed communities, petrol streams were set alight and the resulting terrified flights of inhabitants were recorded as ‘voluntary departures’. Each attack started with the Haganah’s loud-speaker trucks reminding communities about the fate of Deir Yassin.

That the Western world, (crypto Jew rulers with elections rigged by the Jewish Deep state) at best, chose to look the other way when Deir Yassin was massacred, and, at worst, went on to arm the Israeli state to the teeth, added to the dynamic of Israel’s expansionist violence. The blood-soaked roots of Israel are giving fruit to mass murder and charges of genocide today.

The attitude of Jewish Surpemacists to their enemies in the Middle East is not limited to Palestine.

Who can forget former Secretary of State and Jewish Supremacist Madeleine Albright who said that 500,000 dead Iraqi Children was “worth it”….. she went on to win the Presidential Medal of Freedom from Obama. The sad deaths in Jerusalem are the consequences of decades of Zionist terrorism coming home to roost.

This replacement of the Palestinian population has continued till this day as Israel continues to build illegal settlements on occupied territories around the West Bank.

The Israeli military has pounded the Palestinian enclave with airstrikes, rockets and artillery attacks for more than a month, killing more than ten thousand people including women and children as it happened in Deir Yassir and other areas in the 1940s.

Once a state has been established and legitimized, however, as in the cases of Israel the former “terrorists” tend to gain a veil of legitimacy as well. Even though Palestinians elected a Hamas-led government in free and fair elections, Israel denies it legitimacy on the grounds that Hamas is a terrorist organization. Sorry, Hamas has never operated outside of Gaza. Like Taliban have never operated outside Afghanistan

Theodor Herzl would become known as the founder of the Zionist movement largely due to his work, “Der Judenstaat,” or “The Jewish State”

Herzl himself questioned “Palestine or Argentina?” and wasn’t too attached to the idea of Palestine “until he got involved with eastern European Zionists, who were attached to the biblical Land of Israel.” However, despite the religious connection, the concern was mainly with power, and as a result the Zionist movement “was forced to meticulously sort and thoroughly nationalize some of the fake religious beliefs in order to turn them into nation-building myths Palestine wasn’t the only option on the map. East Africa was also considered for a temporary Jewish colony, known as the Uganda Scheme, and a settlement was also started in Argentina in 1889. By the outbreak of World War I, Jewish people numbered 5% of the Palestinian population.

And while the plan was created in cooperation with the Jewish Agency for Palestine, no Palestinian people were consulted on the plan. The Arab Higher Committee had boycotted the deliberations because the U.N. “had refused to address the question of independence

Palestinians ultimately rejected the proposal because it planned to give 58.5% of the land to the Zionist state and would have additionally deprived Palestine “of key agricultural lands and seaports

The plan was not accepted by the Palestinian Arabs and the Arabs States on the ground that it violated the provisions of the United Nations Charter, which granted people the right to decide their own destiny .”

In response to U.N. Resolution 181, a civil war broke out in Palestine between Palestinians and Zionists. Haganah, Irgun, and LHI were three of the main Zionist paramilitary forces that fought against Palestinians, who had “gained extensive training and arms from fighting alongside Britain in World War II.

On November 29, 1947, the United Nations recommended partitioning Palestine into Jewish and Arab states as per the United Nations Partition Plan for Palestine in UN General Assembly Resolution 181. Almost immediately, the Mandate collapsed into civil war between the Jewish and Arab populations. The insurgency against the British continued, although the Haganah, Irgun, and Lehi focused on fighting the Arabs. One notable incident during this time was the Cairo–Haifa train bombings, which killed 28 British soldiers.

Israeli Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich, a settler leader now largely in charge of the administration of the West Bank, who had earlier called for “striking the cities of terror and its instigators without mercy, with tanks and helicopters called on Twitter for Huwara to be “wiped out” by the Israeli government. Smotrich’s remark drew international condemnation, including from the U.N. Secretary General, Jordan, the United Arab Emirates, and others

Israel recently authorized nine outposts in retaliation for Palestinian terrorist attacks. Following the statement, Netanyahu said on Twitter that settlement building would go ahead unhindered. “There is not now nor will there be a freeze,” he wrote. Smotrich also denied that settlement building would slow down. “I do know one thing: There will be no freeze on building and development in the settlements even one day (I’m in charge.).” he tweeted.

Separately, the Israeli Cabinet advanced a bill that would impose the death penalty for Palestinians who kill Israelis, a campaign pledge from Smotrich’s far-right bloc.

The year of 2022 was the deadliest for Palestinians living in the West Bank and East Jerusalem since 2004, according to B’Tselem, with nearly 191 Palestinians killed

Most in Israeli society approve of the Jewish settler “pogrom” against the Palestinian village of Huwara because they regard Palestinians as “animals” and accept the occupation as normal

Menachem Begin, an Irgun leader in 1944, went on to found the Likud party and become Israel’s 6th Prime Minister. Yitzhak Shamir, leader of Lehi in 1943, served in the Mossad and became Israel’s 7th Prime Minister. Another Lehi member, Yaakov Heruti, known for pioneering car bombings, later founded right-wing political parties and played a role in facilitating settler activity in the occupied territories. This lack of accountability allowed the terrorist proclivities of the Irgun and Lehi to permeate Israel’s political and security establishments.

Before the British Mandate, the Jewish settlers had formed a group of mounted armed watchmen called “Hashomar” and with the advent of the British Mandate, it became the Haganah (Defense). With a membership of 68,000 Zionist Jews, the Haganah had a field army of 22,000 trained men and a unit called the Palmach, which was a full-time force, numbering about 11000 (mostly French Foreign Legion and Hessian merceneries in payroll of Jew Rothschild)

The Irgun Zvai Leumi included 8000 armed terrorists, and grew out of the Haganah and its Palmach branch in 1933. The Irgun was not ready to obey the Jewish Agency which sought to dilute the terror of the Haganah in order not to lose its respectability.

IN THE 1970S, ISRAEL’S METHODS FOR SEIZING PALESTINIAN LAND TO ESTABLISH SETTLEMENTS INCLUDED REQUISITIONING FOR OSTENSIBLY MILITARY PURPOSES AND SPRAYING OF LAND WITH POISON

For the Zionists murder is a ritual which is blessed by the rabbis; — that the faith of the Jew won't be perfected unless he kills others, especially the Palestinians. The Talmud states, "Murder is best, and the Jews are not allowed to rescue anybody, whoever he is, or take him out of a hole in which he has fallen, especially the pagans", and it adds, "If any of the pagans fall in a hole, close it with a big stone."

"Gentile souls are of a completely different and inferior order. They are totally evil, with no redeeming qualities whatsoever." ...If every simple cell in a Jewish body entails divinity, is a part of God, then every strand of DNA is a part of God. Therefore, something is special about Jewish DNA...

Chabad Lubavitch Rabbi Yitzhak Ginsburgh quoting the founder of the Chabad movement Shneur Zalman of Liadi – Jewish Week – April 26, 1996.

Zionism breathed life into what came to be known as Nazism since it was founded on the very same tenets of racism and supremacy. Hitler was a Nazi Jew

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A JEWISH RACE AS MANY SCHOLARS ARE NOW DISCOVERING

The Talmudic Jews refer to negative behavior as "Yerida L'tzorich Aliya" which means "Descent for the Purpose of Ascent" (the same philosophy was also embraced by the Frankists.) In other words, you can engage in all form of evil things and the lower you descend, the higher you ascend. They believe that their Messiah will only come once Humanity is totally morally degraded hence they attack the only normal, healthy, natural and God-given form of Sexuality i.e. Heterosexuality (Opposite-Sex Attraction = Marriage) and promote Homosexuality (i.e. Same-Sex Attraction), Zoosexuality (Human Animal Attraction), Pedophilia (Adult-Children Attraction) and incest.

As the Jew Bernard Lazare admitted:–

"The Jew is not satisfied with de-Christianizing — he Judaizes — he destroys the Catholic or Protestant faith — he provokes indifference, but he imposes his idea of the world of morals and of life upon those whose faith he ruins. He works at his age-old task — the annihilation of the religion of Christ."—Benard Lazare, L'Antisemitism, p. 350; Rabbi Benamozegh, as quoted in J. Creagh Scott's Hidden Government, page 58).

Contrary to popular belief, the Jews are not followers of Old Testament law since they are not the people of the Old Testament (the Israelites). In fact, in the book Sanhedrin, section 88b, the Talmud teaches that its precepts and laws are of a "greater stringency" than in respect to those of the Bible. It also says that when a Jew claims there is no breach of Talmudic law, he may act even though "a Biblical law may be transgressed." It is the Talmud that guides the life and spirit of the Jew:

"The Talmud is to this day the circulating heart's blood of the Jewish religion. Whatever laws, customs, or ceremonies we [Jews] observe — whether we are Orthodox, Conservative, Reform or merely spasmodic sentimentalists — we follow the Talmud. It is our common law." – Herman Wouk in New York Herald-Tribune, November 17. 1959.

The nature of the Jew is inclined not toward Biblical precepts but rather toward "Jewish lore and tradition (within the Talmud) which is the mainstay of Jewish existence"' [see Solomon Grayzel, A History of the Jews, Jewish Publication Society, Philadelphia, 1947, p.362.]

The Bible then is used merely for show so as to give the Jews the appearance of being godly and God's people, while their true law and religion is derived from the teachings and traditions of the Talmud. The Talmud is the work of "numerous Jewish scholars over a period of some 700 years, roughly speaking, between 400 AD to 900 AD

"The Jewish religion as it is today traces its descent, without a break, through all the centuries, from the Pharisees. Their leading ideas and methods found expression in a literature of enormous extent, of which a very great deal is still in existence. The Talmud is the largest and most important single member of that literature."– The Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol. VIII, (1942) p. 474

Since Jews have an inclination towards this Talmudic religion which defies God, an obvious conflict will exist between them and anyone who adheres to the laws or ways of God. So repugnant was the Talmud to the white Christian people of Europe that on numerous occasions kings and popes issued edicts to have the Talmud burned.

The Babylonian Talmud, still permits Jews to sacrifice children to Moloch

The Talmud in Sanhedrin 64a makes legal permissions for child sacrifice via a legal technicality. In order for a Jew to incur punishment for child sacrifice to another god (Molech), they must formally deliver the child to a Molech priests for sacrifice AND pass the child through the fire themselves; doing one but not the other frees the Jew from sin. Some Rabbis state that to sacrifice a child to another god other than Molech also frees the Jew from sin.

Judaism, much like Freemasonry, is only a means to push the NWO agenda. The Rothschild and the rest of the Jewish Elite are willing to throw ordinary Jews under the bus if it serves their agenda.

The Talmud indeed speaks of non-Jews as “animals”. However, once a non-Jew is being converted into Judaism they suddenly receive a “Jewish Soul” and become “God” along with every cell of their DNA. (Suddenly, DNA turns “Godly”).

If you are not a Jew, you cannot marry a Jew but if you converted to Judaism you can. This proves to me that Judaism (much like Freemasonry) isn’t really a race and a folk in the traditional sense but a secret society – a Satanic cult – whose main goal is to enslave mankind. “Race” and “People” are used as covers to keep the brainwashed mixed race “Jewish” masses follow the Satanic agenda.

The dominant band of Jews currently ensconced in Zionism and many nodes of power are the Rothschild-led Ashkenazis with their origins in Khazaria who are, essentially, not Jewish at all. It appears that the Ashkenazi heritage is currently micro-managing the destiny of Jews

Written in Rabbinic Hebrew or “Tannaitic”, the Talmud as a whole is more than 6,20 pages long offering teachings from thousands of rabbis on topics as diverse as ethics, esoteric philosophy, law, social etiquette, sexuality, and many other opinions all couched in sometimes extremely obscure and often non-sensical dictums

The name ‘Pharisee’, according to the Judaist authorities, means ‘one who separates himself’, or keeps away from persons or things impure in order to attain the degree of holiness and righteousness required in those who would commune with God. The Pharisees formed a league or brotherhood of their own, admitting to their inmost councils only those who, in the presence of three members, pledged themselves to the strict observance of Levitical purity. They were the earliest specialists in secret conspiracy, as a political science.”

If the State of Israel was viewed as unfolding a Messianic scenario, then the miraculous victory of the Six-Day War (fought by French Foreign legion/ Hessian merceneries in the payroll of Jew Rothschild) was an essential stage in that process. The territories belong to the Jewish people (i.e., the State of Israel) by Divine decree, which must never be handed over to foreign hands.

Anybody whom the Zionists did not like became Amalakites, who should be murdered

Arab intransigence was a mere ruse.. Jews dressed up as Arabs sacrificed peaceful Jews to keep the flame alive .

On May 14, 1948 the establishment of the State of Israel was proclaimed. The declaration of independence was followed by the establishment of the Israel Defense Forces (IDF), and the process of absorbing all TERRORIST military organizations into the IDF started. On June 1, an agreement had been signed between Menachem Begin and Yisrael Galili for the absorption of the Irgun into the IDF.

Yisrael Galili was an Israeli politician, government minister and member of Knesset. Before Israel’s independence in 1948, he served as Chief of Staff of Haganah, the main Zionist paramilitary organization that operated for the Yishuv in the British Mandate for Palestine. One of Prime Minister Golda Meir’s top advisers, and member of her Cabinet, he was also a member of the prestigious Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee and on the Ministerial Committee for Settlement. Galili had a lengthy sexual affair with Golda Meir who was some 13 years his senior.

Yisrael, who wanted a name that would reflect his Jewish identity anyway, legally changed his name to Galili and then named a gun after himself. He was known in the military by the nickname 'Father of the Rifle'. The Galil assault rifle heavily derives most of the features from Kalashnikov AK-47. In 1973, he received the Israel Defense Prize for this achievement.

In 1909, Bar Giora and Hashomer were In June 1920, these organizations dissolved into the Haganah, the unofficial Jewish underground terrorist organizationFor the last decade of the Mandate, the Haganah developed special units that assisted in illegal Jewish immigration to Palestine, one being the Palmach, a leadership strike force.

Independent of the Haganah's growth, in 1931, the Irgun, or National Military Organization, grew under the leadership of Revisionist Zionist leader Zeev Jabotinsky, and from 1943 onwards by Menachem Begin. Unlike the Haganah, led by David Ben Gurion as head of the Jewish Agency, the Irgun focused on offensive operations against Arab and British targets, aimed at hastening British departure from Palestine.

A smaller, more strident underground Jewish military group formed as the Stern Gang, or Lehi, which was led by Yitzhak Shamir. Both Begin and Shamir would later become Prime Ministers of Israel. During Israel's Independence War, the Lehi and the Irgun dissolved into the newly established Israel Defense Forces, a citizen's army, which became Israel's military backbone. With few exceptions, every Israeli does compulsory military service.

The predecessor of Haganah was Hashomer ("The Watchman") established in 1909, itself a successor of Bar-Giora, founded in 1907. The Bar-Giora consisted of a small group of Jewish immigrants who guarded settlements for an annual fee. At no time did the group have more than 100 members.

In reaction to British restrictions, illegal immigration to Palestine began. Initially, Jews entered Palestine by land, mainly by slipping across the northern border, where they were aided by the border settlements. In the early 1930s, when crossing the northern border became more difficult, other routes were found.

Thousands of Jews came to Palestine on student or tourist visas, and never returned to their countries of origin. Jewish women often entered into fictitious marriages with residents of Palestine to be granted entry for family reunification purposes.

In 1934, the first seaborne attempt to bring Jews to Palestine happened when some 350 Jews of the HeHalutz movement in Poland who were unwilling to wait for certificates sailed to Palestine on the Vallos, a chartered ship. Two more ships carrying illegal immigrants arrived in 1937, and several more arrived in 1938 and 1939. These voyages were mainly organized by the Revisionist Zionist Organization and the Irgun.

Overall, between 1929 and 1940, a period of mass Jewish immigration known as the Fifth Aliyah occurred despite British restrictions. Nearly 257,000 Jews (of whom 20,000 later left) immigrated to Palestine, many of them illegally.

There were two uprisings by the Palestinians, in 1929 and one in 1936.

The British forces violently quashed the Palestinian resistance to the onslaught of the Zionist intruders, expelled their leadership, many were incarcerated and many killed and the Palestinian resistance groups were disbanded and disarmed. Yet the Zionist Terrorist gangs were not disarmed and left to continue their pogrom against the rightful inhabitants of the land.

In fact the British utilised and connived with the Zionist terrorist gangs in quashing the Palestinian uprising and even armed them ever more to perpetrate their atrocities.

For the Israeli regime, acknowledging the massacre in Tantura, even with blaming the deceased individual, is evidently out of the question because it would trigger a domino effect in the form of dozens of other massacres.

Those responsible for all these crimes include the Zionist terrorist groups Haganah, Irgun and Lehi, on which today's armed forces, paradoxically named "Israeli Defense Forces", are based.

The leaders of those groups, terrorists Menachem Begin, David Ben-Gurion, and Yitzhak Rabin, became prominent Israeli prime ministers and today are considered national heroes.

The Tantura massacre took place on the night of 22–23 May 1948 during the 1948 Arab–Israeli War. Around 317 Palestinian Arab villagers from Tantura were massacred by Israel's Haganah, namely the Alexandroni Brigade. The massacre occurred following Tantura's surrender, a village of roughly 1,600 people in 1945 located near Haifa. The victims were buried in a mass grave, which today serves as a car park for the nearby Tel Dor beach.

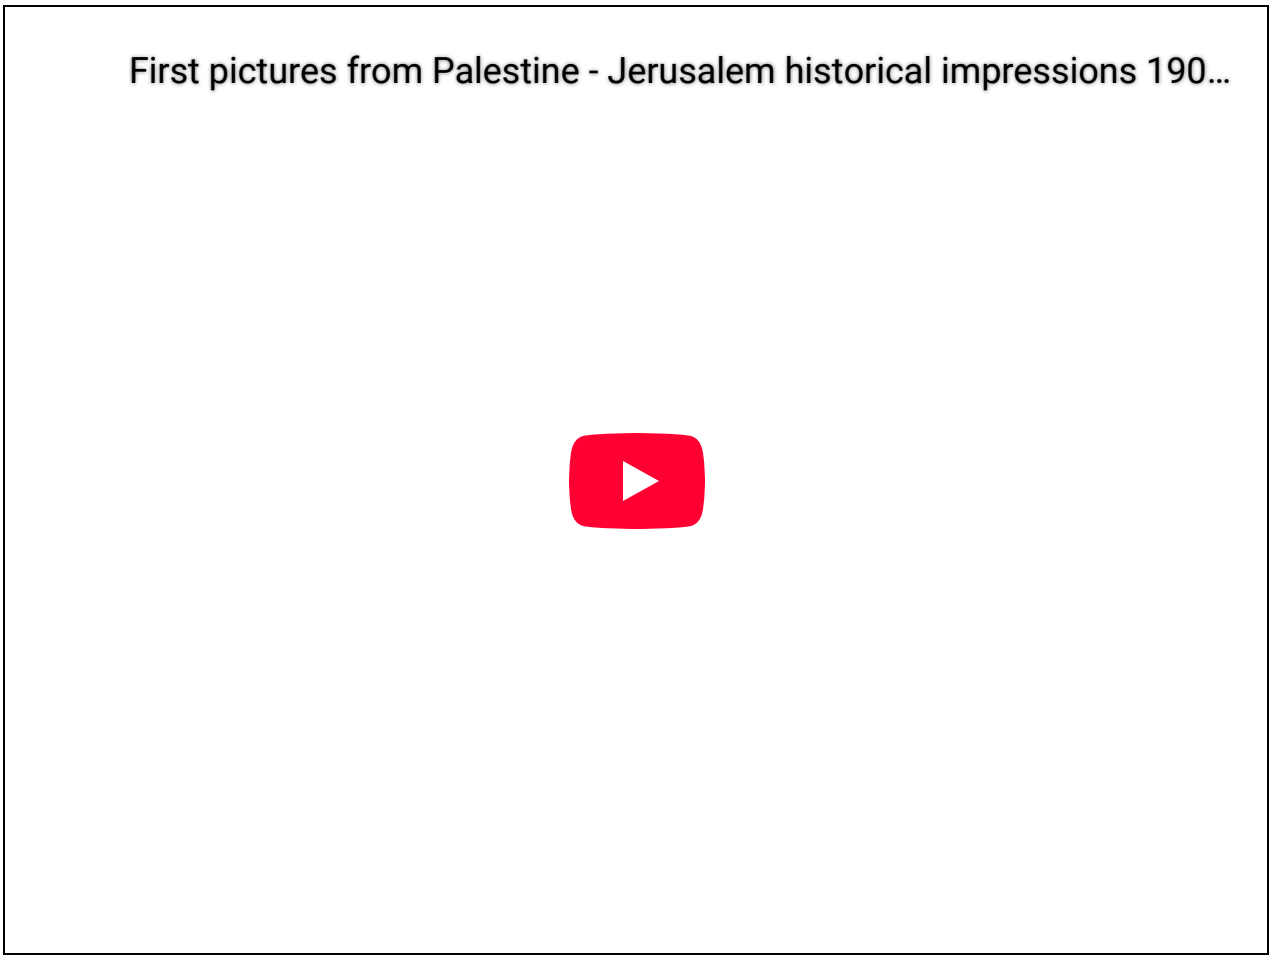
Therefore, the Tantura massacre can be considered one of the foundation stones of the Israeli regime, along with other massacres and crimes.

The event is a symbol of Zionist ideology based on hatred, slaughter and lies that continues to this day.



The Rothschilds funded the early settlers from Europe to relocate in post-war Palestine and they also funded and armed the terrorist groups, like Irgun, which bombed and terrorised Israel into existence in 1948, a campaign which forced 780,000 Palestinians to leave the land of their birth.

Israel is simply the State of Rothschild and how appropriate that they paid for the construction of the Israeli parliament building, the Knesset, and the Israel Supreme Court.

The terms “Jewish terrorism” and “Zionist terrorism” were both used prior to 1948 to refer to terrorist acts committed by armed Zionist gangs which targeted the Arab inhabitants of Palestine as well as the British Mandate authorities. Since the Great Palestine Revolt of 1936-39 and right until the establishment of the State of Israel, Zionist terrorism was used as a strategic military weapon to hasten the founding of an independent Jewish state.

Numerous attacks were mounted against Palestinians to terrorize them and drive them out of their ancestral land, and against British army and police outposts.

Many assassinations were carried out as well as bombs planted in markets, ships and hotels. Heading these Zionist gangs were men who, in later years, became prime ministers of Israel, such as David Ben-Gurion, Menahem Begin and Yitzhak Shamir.

In 1909, an organization called Hashomer (the Guardian) was founded by Yitzhak Ben Zvi and David Ben-Gurion as the first paramilitary formation which raised the slogan “Judaea was lost by blood and fire and will rise again by blood and fire.”

It began its activities by assuming security functions for the settlements in the Galilee, then turned into a fighting force. In June 1920, and at the conference of Ahdut Ha Avoda, the formation of the Haganah (Defence) was announced, as an extension of Hashomer.
